Dean shares concerns of her students

By WALTER F. STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

First woman to serve as St. Louis University's dean of students, Miss Mary A. Brummer of Madison said this week that "the biggest problem facing most of the students is financial."

"They must work to remain in school and cannot avail themselves as much as they should of other programs, such as lectures, films, clubs and organizations. Most of these things happen while the students are at work."

"We are a private institution, of course, causing our tuition to be higher than at state-supported schools."

"As the dean of students, I work with our students as individuals and also with student organizations."

"I try to relate their classroom experiences with their extracurricular activities and also with their future careers."

Before her promotion to dean of students was announced this fall by the Rev. Daniel C. O'Connell, S.J., president of St. Louis University, Miss Brummer was named in 1974 as assistant vice-president of SLU for student development. She had served as dean of women at the university since 1967, and prior to that was

Area office for the new National Steel president

Howard M. "Pete" Love was elected president of National Steel Corporation at a quarterly meeting of its board of directors in Pittsburgh, Pa., Wednesday.

He was designated, also, as chief operating officer of the company, a director and a member of the executive committee.

George A. Stinson, who has been chairman and president, continues as chairman and chief executive officer. He became president in late 1963, chief executive in early 1966 and chairman in May 1972.

Love had been president of National Steel's Midwest and Granite City Steel Divisions. No successor has been named.

He will continue to reside and have his headquarters in the St. Louis area, where he moved with his wife and five children in 1972 after he became president of the Granite City Steel Division.

Reflecting his assumption of operating responsibility for 50 plants in 22 states and Canada, Love's office will be moved from the Granite City Steel Division to National Steel Corporation offices to be opened in early April on the top floor of the new 35-story Mercantile Tower in downtown St. Louis.

"Modern communications and transportation allow national corporations to exercise considerably more flexibility than was once possible in the location of their top executives," Love said.

"In addition, senior management at National Steel—as at a number of other large corporations—has historically been based in more than one location."

"Located at the center of the U.S. population, St. Louis is an ideal place from which to reach the steel producing and steel fabricating plants which National Steel operates."

Chairman Stinson noted that, because of National's decentralized plan of management, it has often been the practice in the past for National's president, as in this case, to make his office near one of the company's steelmaking units.

Love joined National Steel in 1956 after graduation from the Harvard Graduate School of Business. A native of Pittsburgh, he had graduated from Colgate University in 1952 and served with the U.S. Air Force.

After joining National Steel as a sales trainee at its Great Lakes Steel Division, at Detroit, Love served in various operating departments before becoming assistant general manager, district sales offices, in 1964.

Less than a year later, he became assistant to the president of Great Lakes in 1965.

In June 1966, he was made president of National's Midwest Steel Division at Fortage, Ind., near Chicago.

In January 1972, he also became president of the Granite City Steel Division, which had been acquired in August 1971.

A major part of his dual responsibility was to integrate

Ricco's open; ruling awaited

Ricco's II Lounge, 3675 Namekoi Road, in the rear of the former Biederman's Furniture building, reopened Tuesday night after a seven-day order to remain closed expired.

The order was issued by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, acting as the city's liquor control commissioner, Dec. 8 following a fatal stabbing and serious shooting in a parking lot.

The seven-day closing order noted that Anthony Augustine had seven days in which to ask for a hearing on the order.

That hearing was held Monday in Schuler's office. The mayor heard statements from both sides and is to reach his decision by Saturday on whether to close the establishment permanently.

During the hearing, Attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr., representing the city, reviewed about 20

Heavy trucks, such as shown above, will be routed from Madison Avenue over 18th Street to Benton, then to Niedringhaus and to FA Route 151, diverting them from streets in the business district. The 18th Street truck route has been established by city ordinance.

Aid planned for local disasters

A United Way disaster aid program for the Quad-Cities was authorized Tuesday afternoon by the board of directors at a meeting in which $443,282 was approved for agency allocations in 1976.

Fires and other disasters affecting five or more families qualify for nationally-related assistance through the American Red Cross. The new anti-disaster program administered by the United Way will handle those affecting one to four families.

Under the experimental program authorized at Tuesday's Tri-Cities Area United Way board meeting, the United Way will administer the assistance in cooperation with the Red Cross and other agencies.

The plan will be considered for establishment as a permanent program after the Budget Committee has completed a review of the proposed procedures. Expenditure of up to $2,000 was authorized Tuesday so that the disaster aid plan can be placed in operation immediately.

Principal purpose will be to "provide emergency lodging during the first 24 to 72 hours following the disaster, and follow-up assistance with clothing and household furnishings if indicated."

It was decided to provide such help "on an individual case-work basis according to the need."

A report by Robert Hildebrand, chairman of the Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross, noted that "since November 1974 the chapter has received 15 requests for assistance from victims of one-family burnouts, and our assistance has been very limited because of a lack of funding for this purpose."

United Way President Mitchell B. Milonski presided and the recommendation to institute the disaster plan was presented by the Budget Committee, headed by John Blasigame.

Allocations to agencies were voted after the committee's recommendations were discussed by Blasigame.

Allocations for 1976 calendar year operating funds include $58,000 to the Tri-Cities Area

YMCA (Young Men's Christian Association), $55,000 to the Catholic Men's Council, Boy Scouts of America, $46,000 to the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council, $24,350 to the Catholic Charities, $24,950 to the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council, $24,350 to the Salvation Army, $20,000 to Protestant Welfare Association and $12,000 to the Visiting Nurse Association.

Remaining allocations include $11,000 to the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Home, $9,400 to the Association for the Retarded, $7,000 to the Illinois Children's Home and Aid

Maryville easement

An agreement between Granite City and Granite City School District 2 by which the school district will provide a parcel of school land as right-of-way for the extension of Maryville Road was approved in an ordinance enacted by the City Council Monday night.

The Board of Education, meeting Tuesday night, approved the agreement as set out in the city ordinance.

In the ordinance, the school district will grant a parcel of 45,079 square feet of land along the east side of Lake School permit extension of Maryville Road from Pontoon Road to Highway 162 at 23rd Street.

In return, the city agrees to require developers of land between Lake School and Terminal Avenue to construct sidewalks along the newly built Maryville Road.

In addition, the city agrees to share equally with the school district the cost of building any necessary sidewalks along Maryville Road between Lake School and Terminal Avenue, where walks are not built by others.

School Board members commented in their meeting Tuesday night that it likely will be a considerable time before construction of such walks financed by the school district and the city are needed.

The agreement also provides that Granite City will permit the school district to tap on to a new storm sewer to be installed along the new Maryville Road to drain Parkway school property of stormwater only.

Granite City also accepts responsibility for maintenance of all sidewalks built in connection with the road extension project.

Mayor Paul Schuler told the Press-Record that acquisition of the Lake School easement leaves the city with only two reasons for the city to require to obtain all right-of-way for the Maryville Road project which will be directed and handled by the Madison County Highway Department.

Earlier in the year, Schuler anticipated a bid call for the project during late November or early December. He said Tuesday, however, that right-of-way problems are causing a longer delay than he had expected.

The mayor said acquisition of a triangular piece of property, along Terminal Avenue which held a mortgage held by the Veterans Administration is causing delay in negotiating with the VA by letter.

Disagreements thus far over the price for a piece of right-of-way near the Highway 162 and 23rd Street intersection also is causing some delay, the mayor said.

The Maryville Road extension will be financed jointly by the city and Granite City. The city will finance its share of the cost with motor fuel tax funds as they become available. The county has agreed to pay the city's share of cost as the

School voting in Venice Saturday

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

How long can the schools stay open if the Venice School District referendum Saturday to increase the educational tax rate by 60 cents should fail is one of the most serious questions facing members of the Venice Board of Education and Venice residents in general.

Even if voters approve the tax rate increase proposal to $2.65 per $100 assessed valuation from the current rate of $2.05, the Venice School District still will have barely sufficient funds to operate the schools at their present level and will be forced to continue to borrow against taxes due the following year, school board members noted as they prepared this week for Saturday's referendum.

Venice voters will go to the polls Saturday from noon to 7 p.m. at two school district polling places—Venice School gymnasium (Precinct One) and the Eagle Park Improvement Association Building in Eagle Park Acres (Precinct Two).

At a regular meeting of the Board of Education Monday night, approval to hire six election judges was granted.

In an effort to provide detailed information concerning the district's serious financial plight and the need for additional tax funds, a public meeting was called by the board last week.

Two Venice residents responded to the board's invitation to learn more about the district's ever-mounting deficit in operating funds. Saturday's vote on the educational fund tax will be the fifth attempt to obtain an increase in the past 2½ years.

Venice voters failed to approve the four previous proposals, which were scaled down from an initial $1.20 rate increase, defeated in June 1973, to two efforts to gain 80-cent raises in December 1973 and March 1974, both lost, and a 50-cent raise sought in October 1974, also rejected by voters.

The question of how long can the schools stay open if the referendum fails, and whether Venice residents want their children to continue their education in the Venice School District must be faced by the voters.

Truck signals funded

Financing of a Granite City proposal to install electric traffic signals and enlarge the intersection at 18th Street and Madison Avenue has been reactivated by the Federal Aid to Urban Systems, Mayor Paul Schuler announced Monday night.

Mayor Schuler told City Council members that PAUS has approved a federal grant of $140,000 for the project, providing 70 per cent of the total financing.

Improvement of the intersection is considered by city officials to be vital to the success of an established truck route from Madison Avenue over 18th Street to Benton Avenue. The route then extends on Niedringhaus Avenue to FA Route 151.

Installation of electric traffic signals with left-turn lights at 18th Street and Madison Avenue originally was planned under the old federal TOPICS (Traffic Operation Program to Increase Capacity and Safety) program which was phased out in June 1970.

The program extended deadlines into 1975, however, to provide financing for projects for which planning could be completed prior to the extended deadlines. Earlier this year the city was notified that its planning for the intersection improvement had failed to meet the deadline and that funds appropriated for the project had been withdrawn.

Schuler said confirmation of the new grant for the 1976 fiscal year was received last week at the meeting of the FAUS Policy Committee of the Madison-St. Clair County urbanized area at the Collinsville City Hall.

At that meeting, Madison

Revision in tavern hours

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Madison City Council Tuesday evening, by a vote of 7-2, enacted an ordinance amending extending tavern closing hours by one hour.

Both Second Ward aldermen, Donald Broyles and Richard Kismier, voted against the extension of hours. The ordinance amends the city's liquor control laws.

Aldermen voting for the new hours were Robert Don Reeves and Paul Ashford of the First Ward, Ray Kozielek and Ronald Gryzwac of the Third Ward, Mike Sikora of the Fourth Ward, and Booker Walton and Donald Garrett of the Fifth Ward.

Fourth Ward Alderman

Christ Costoff was absent due to illness.

The new hours call for taverns to be closed on Monday through Friday between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m.; on Saturdays from 3 a.m. until 6 a.m.; and on Sundays from 3 a.m. until noon.

When the Mayor replied it had been prepared, Alderman Gryzwac said, "Mr. Mayor, I wish to move that Alderman Garrett place the amendment on first reading as we need to get this matter settled. We have been talking about it for some time now."

Nameoki committee race headlines precinct bids

Nineteen races are forming in Quad-City townships for the posts of Democratic precinct committeemen, the Madison County Clerk's tally board showed after filing closed Monday afternoon. Candidates still may withdraw through noon Saturday.

A four-way race in Nameoki Township Precinct One may highlight the committeeman races. The incumbent, Pontoon Beach Village Board President Floyd David Moss, is opposed by Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whittell, former Pontoon Beach trustee Paul L. Bennett, and Mrs. Lillian Singer.

A three-way race is shaping up in Venice Township Precinct One with the incumbent, John T. Dickey, opposed by Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, and John Mangiaracino, the incumbent Republican precinct committeeman in that precinct.

Another three-way race in Nameoki Precinct Five will pit the incumbent Dean Harrell against Leo Pelek and Helen Hawkins, a former committeeman.

An interesting two-way race in Nameoki Precinct Nine will involve two Pontoon Beach village trustees, Raymond L. Gaudette Jr., the incumbent committeeman, against Donald C. Rea.

In Granite City Precinct 16, David Partney has filed to unseat the incumbent, William "Bill" Harrison, who also is in the race.

Other Granite City precincts in which there is opposition, with the incumbent named first, are: Precinct One, Frank J. Fuzessery against Bobby J. Orasco; Precinct Three, Virginia O'Beir against Louis A. Suche; Precinct Eight, Gary L. Miller against Betty L. Smith; Precinct 11, John J. Petrillo against E. Jerry Walker; Precinct 14, Alice McGee against Bob W. Wolf; Precinct 23, Sam W. Wolf against George J. Sykes, and Precinct 26, Carl V. Buehler against Elsie E. Mayhugh.

Other Nameoki Township races pit Homer M. Boothman, the incumbent, against James Counts in Nameoki Precinct Four; incumbent Jerry L. Adams against Louis Zozoff Jr., in Precinct Six; incumbent Vivian Koller against Robert R. Dew in Precinct 10, and Robert L. This against Robert Kiseka in Precinct 11, which formerly had Kelly A. Grimm as committeeman. Grimm is not running.

Other precincts in which there is opposition are: Chouteau Precinct Five, where Morris W. Miles, the incumbent, is running against Peyton Lee Pavia; Venice Precinct Six, where Fred Berthel is challenging the incumbent, Kenneth E. Hinson, and Venice Precinct 10, where incumbent Bennie Munzes is opposed by Edward P. Brandes.

Unopposed committeemen in Granite City Township precincts are: Frank Fritz Baranica in Precinct Two, Herbert Milton Jr. in Precinct Four, Andrew Timko in Precinct Five, Rufus LeMaster in Precinct 10, "Cherry" Everett Morlen in Precinct 12, Thomas R. Watkins in Precinct 13, Calvin M. Waugh in Precinct 15, Dick Allen in Precinct 17, Sandy Pence in Precinct 18.

Dorothy Vaughn in Precinct 19, Glen Sprankle in Precinct 20, Donald W. Stucke in Precinct 21, John Sigle Jr. in Precinct 22, Neal Melton in Precinct 24, Lurion Pulley in Precinct 25, Carl Morris in Precinct 27, Nelson "Nellie" Hagnauer in Precinct 28, Walter F. Nonet in Precinct 29, Wade Campbell in Precinct 30, William B. Webb in Precinct 31, and Gerald "Jerry" Parmlay in Precinct 32.

Unopposed Nameoki Township candidates are: Richard L. Peck in Precinct Two, Joseph Garcia in Precinct Three, Frank Melchic in Precinct Seven and Harry A. Briggs in Precinct Eight.

In Chouteau Township, running unopposed for Democratic committeeman are: John Dial in Precinct One, Albert E. Doerr in Precinct Two and Dudley T. Luebert in Precinct Three.

In Venice Township, unopposed candidates are: Jay D. Mauer in Precinct Two, Eddie Lee Sneed Sr. in Precinct Three, Andrew J. Watts in Precinct Four, Don E. Garrett in Precinct Five, Hilbert Hockstra in Precinct Seven, Steve Graklanoff in Precinct Eight, Christ Costoff in Precinct Nine, and James M. Riddle in Precinct 11.

On the Republican side, there is opposition in only one precinct committeeman race as George E. Krupp has filed against incumbent Ernest E. Veigh Jr., in Granite City Precinct 17.

Most precincts are without candidates at this time as most of the present committeemen either are hoping to be appointed by the Republican party, or are retiring.

Granite City Township precincts where there are candidates are: Precinct Four, Harold Lynn; Precinct Seven, Paul Lynn; Precinct 12, Dale G. Tyler; Precinct 13, Andrew Jess Parks; Precinct 14, James M. Ahlers; Precinct 16, Bruce R. Reese; Precinct 18, Roger W. Reese; Precinct 24, George B. Slattery; Precinct 26, Harold Stallings, and Precinct 31, Mary "Jean" Orr.

Nameoki Township precincts with Republican committeeman candidates are: Precinct Three, Steve Nemeth; Precinct Four, L. Michael Nance; Precinct Six, Bob Barton and Precinct Seven, Bob Bates.

In Chouteau Township, candidates are: Precinct Six, Robert L. Douglas and Precinct Seven, Charles E. Knipping. Hugh Robert Hairston in Precinct One is the only Republican committeeman candidate in Venice Township.

'Game room' permission delayed

Granite City council members delayed action Monday night on a request by two St. Louis men to open an arcade-type game room in a section of the former Biederman Furniture building at 3675 N. Rock Road.

The request was made by Joseph and Edward Tumminia, brothers of St. Louis who said they operate three such establishments in St. Louis and St. Louis County.

In requesting permission to open the game room in the building now occupied by the flea market and by Riteco's, the applicants said the game room would be equipped primarily with coin-operated machines of various types that would attract both teen-age and adult interest.

"They said that adult supervision would be provided at all times, that regular security guards would be on duty at all times and that no loitering would be permitted.

Edward Tumminia told the council that none of their establishments in St. Louis and St. Louis County has encountered difficulties and that the game rooms attract large crowds of young people and adults.

Alderman Sam Whitmer noted, however, that Granite City has an ordinance that prohibits youths under the age of 18 from playing coin-operated games. Tumminia said he was unaware of that law.

Alderman Frank Greenwald said, "We're having an unfortunate experience now in this area. Speaking for myself, I'm a little worried about the idea."

On a motion by Alderman Warren Deaton, the council referred the matter to the Police Department for a study and a recommendation at the next council meeting. The council will meet again Monday.

The council enacted an ordinance by which Granite City will participate in the Illinois Police Training Act. This will require six months of training for all new police officers before they are accepted as full-duty patrolmen. Participation in the state act also will qualify the city for state and federal aid in various categories.

In a related action, the aldermen approved another ordinance which amends the Police Department's patrolmen, an increase of two. The council several weeks ago amended the 1975-76 city budget to allow for the addition of two new members of the police force.

Another ordinance creating a board relating to Emergency Service and Disaster Agencies also was approved on final passage. The bill provides for appointment of a coordinator and specifies the functions of the ESDA.

Mayor Paul Schuler said the bill basically changes the name of the Granite City Civil Defense Organization. The city also conforms with state requirements under the new ordinance.

'Tree of Lights' drive at $15,500

Though the outdoor temperature definitely has turned colder the past few days, the generosity of shoppers passing the Salvation Army's bright red street-corner kettles will help to warm the hearts and homes of many less fortunate residents at Christmastime.

Added to the contributions from individuals, families, organizations and business firms, the donations collected in the kettles to date have illuminated 620 bulbs on the symbolic tree, located in the 1300 block of Niedringhaus Avenue.

E. A. "Drew" Karandjeff, chairman of this year's Tree of Lights drive, said the 620 lights represent $15,500 in total donations.

According to Salvation Army Captain Michael Tompkins there are 755 applications requesting help this year through Christmas checks.

Unlike previous years when baskets of canned food were distributed, eligible families and individuals will receive grocery order checks to purchase food at any of six major grocery firms in the Quad-City area.

The Salvation Army toy shop will be a busy place Monday and Tuesday when parents who have made application to the Christmas center will have an opportunity to choose new toys for their children without charge.

A total of 3,200 youngsters will receive new toys through the toy shop program.

Last week and this, Salvation Army volunteers and the local officers have visited nine nursing homes and shut-ins persons, providing Christmas cheer to 1,150 people and distributing 3,800 presents.

More than 550 gifts were presented when the Salvation Army representatives paid a call at Scott Air Force Base Hospital at Belleville.

At 6:30 p.m. Sunday, the Salvation Army Sunday School will present its annual holiday program, entitled "Christmas Around the World." Santa Claus will greet the children and give presents to each boy and girl.

Enthusiastic response from many local civic and service clubs in ringing the bells at the kettles sites has greatly aided the Tree of Lights campaign, Captain Tompkins said.

Among the groups which have "manned" the kettles this year are:

Granite City Rotary; Moose Lodge 272; Salvation Army Home League; Granite City Kiwanis; Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club; Madison Junior Service Club; Kiwanis Breakfast Club; Noon Optimists; Madison-Venice Rotary Club; Pontoon Beach Lions; Venice Lions; Granite City Junior Service Club; Tri-City Shrine Club; Granite City Jaycees; Job's Daughters; Bethel 43; Boy Scout troops; and Salvation Army Corps, Cadets and Seabees.

Donors who have contributed $25 or more to the Tree of Lights, include: Dron Electric Co. (four); Howard Vallow; Elmer Wessel; Women's Society of Christian Service; Leroy Klueter; Earl Stanfill; Mary Lesko in memory of Joseph J. Lesko; Frank and Mary Parison, Carl and Ann Jeraldine Ropac in memory of Joseph J. City takes sewer claim to court

A petition for a declaratory judgment against a $25,000 claim of the G. L. Tarlton Contracting Co. of St. Louis has been filed in Circuit Court at Edwardsville in behalf of Granite City.

The claim, which represents additional charges claimed by the contracting firm for work in connection with Granite City's secondary sewage treatment plant, was scheduled for trial. Granite City filed the circuit court proceedings, however, and Circuit Judge Horace Calvo issued a temporary injunction prohibiting arbitration until a hearing can be held.

The contracting firm seeks the additional charges for degenerating work it had to do which had not been included in its original bid. The firm alleged the 1973 spring floods made the additional work necessary.

The city contends the firm should have accounted for such problems and made allowances in its bid.

City Attorney George Filcoff said he does not believe proper notification was given the city concerning the arbitration proceeding. Arbitration was to be handled by the American Arbitration Association in St. Louis.

Hirings will be decided by Pontoon Beach board

All future hirings or acceptances of employees in Pontoon Beach will require the approval of the Village Board, the trustees determined during a special meeting Monday night.

Some observers viewed the action as a victory for opponents of Village Board President David Moss — the opponents having objected to Moss accepting Manpower grant employees to work in the village without directly consulting the board.

The Manpower program was established under a federal grant to help provide jobs for the unemployed.

The grant was given to Madison County, and the county hires and assigns persons to work for various units of government in the county, at no direct cost to those governmental units.

At the previous village board meeting, Trustee Don Rea charged that Moss had forced Moss's executive to resign, and had suggested that Moss replace her with a woman who is a neighbor of Moss.

Rea said the board should review the application of the young woman before she is accepted. Moss said he felt Manpower employees were selected by the Manpower program head, Dan Churavich, and did not require acceptance by the board.

That meeting was recessed until Monday night, when Mayor Moss was unable to find anyone willing to make a motion to accept the secretary without first seeing an application.

The village's attorney also was requested to prepare a legal opinion on the hiring question before Monday's meeting.

At the Monday evening session, the attorney, Paul Guzzardo, said he could find no village statute pertaining to hiring and, therefore, felt the issue was up to the board's discretion.

The board reviewed the application of Tammy Gilliam, a village resident, for the executive secretary position, and approved accepting her as an employee through the Manpower program. Only Rea voted against the acceptance.

Trustee Raymond Gaudette Jr. then asked Guzzardo to prepare an ordinance assuring that all future employees be approved by the village board before they can be hired.

The street committee reported that a $1,490 used dump truck had been purchased Friday night from a village employee broke down as soon as it was placed into operation and also does not have brakes. The engine will not run, it was alleged.

Rea asked the village attorney to take all possible action to resolve the issue. Guzzardo advised the board not to take any action on the topic until officials have met with the seller to attempt to reach an agreement. The bill for the truck has not been paid, it was noted.

G. J. Moran opens law office

George J. Moran Jr. has announced the opening of a law office at 1387 Niedringhaus Ave. Moran, a lifelong resident of Granite City, graduated from Granite City High School in 1966. He graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1971, receiving a B.S. degree with a major in mathematics and a minor in chemistry.

He received a Juris Doctor Degree from St. Louis University in 1974 and passed the Illinois Bar examination in the same year. He is also a graduate of the Court Practice Institute. Moran lives at 2712 Michigan Ave.

After graduating from law school, he was employed in the trial of criminal cases by the St. Clair County Public Defender. He is a member of the Illinois State Bar Association, the Illinois Trial Lawyer's Association and the Tri-City Bar Association. The telephone number of the office is 876-4923.

Ambulance, train collide

An ambulance attendant and a pregnant woman were injured when the ambulance taking the woman to the hospital to have the baby and a Norfolk & Western Railroad train collided at Highway 162 and the railroad tracks near Lake School at 4:35 a.m. Tuesday.

The Collinsville Fire Department ambulance, driven by David Burton, Collinsville, was westbound on Route 162 heading for St. Elizabeth Hospital when it approached the tracks.

Burton said he saw the signals flashing and saw a train some distance away, but failed to see the closer train, which struck the right rear of the ambulance as it crossed the east set of tracks.

Vernon Glass, Charleston, was engineer of the train. Another ambulance was called and took the attendant, Jim Nishurtz, 35, Collinsville, and the woman, Mrs. Bonnie Noll, 22, Caseyville, to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Nishurtz was released following x-rays and treatment for a cut to his head.

Mrs. Noll was treated for a three-inch cut to her forehead, a cut above her left eyelid and a cut to a knee and was taken to the obstetrics unit. She gave birth to a seven pound, 10 ounce baby girl at 7:22 a.m. Tuesday.

Amend tavern license limit

An amendment to Granite City's liquor control ordinance establishing new limits for the number of taverns and package liquor stores, was approved by the City Council Monday night.

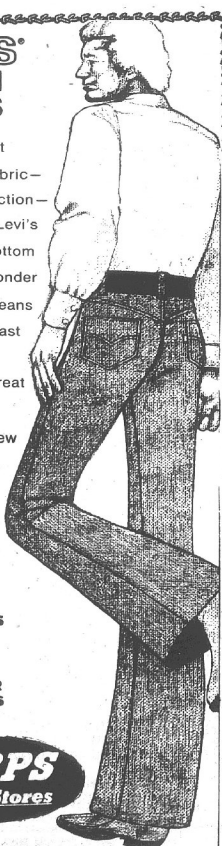

The amendment changes to 52 the maximum number of tavern licenses to be issued in the city, and sets at seven the maximum number of package liquor stores.

This is ten fewer tavern licenses than were allowed in the original control ordinance, and three more package liquor stores than the four allowed in the original ordinance.

Council members Monday night also accepted the resignation of George Flach, recently appointed maintenance electrician at the city's secondary sewage treatment plant. Flach was appointed by Mayor Paul Schuler three weeks ago.

$100,000 grant for housing improvements in Quad-Cities

A Community Development program grant of $100,000 was earmarked Monday for the Quad-City area to finance a program of low interest loans for housing rehabilitation.

The grant was approved in a meeting of the Madison County Community Development Board headed by Nelson Hagnauer, County Board chairman.

The fund was allocated to District Two which is made up of Granite City, Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach. Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City is board chairman of District Two.

Mayor Schuler said the funds will be used to make loans to area residents who wish to make home improvements. Details of the program will be announced later.

The county development board also approved an allocation of $133,000 to Madison County to be used for site preparation for the proposed county jail, including acquisition of utilities and roads. Part of this grant also is to be used to acquire land for other purposes.

The county also was awarded $60,000 for a road sign identification program in unincorporated areas and $60,000 was awarded District One (Alton area) for housing rehabilitation loan program similar to that planned in the Quad-Cities.

Monies involved in the grants are known as "discretionary funds" which are separate from grants allocated to the county's five community Development Districts for their own development projects.

Group will 'march for life' to U. S. Capitol

The Belleville Area Right to Life and Missouri Citizens for Life Committees will again sponsor round-trip travel arrangements to the third annual March for Life in Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.

The date will mark the third anniversary of the Supreme Court's decision permitting abortion on demand. A pro-life march and rally has been held annually on Jan. 22 in Washington, asking for a human life amendment to the Constitution, since 1974.

This year's program will begin the evening of Jan. 21 with a vigil and discussion meeting at the hotel. On Thursday, Jan. 22, American Citizens Concerned for Life will sponsor a prayer breakfast. State representatives and senators will be invited to join their state delegations at the event.

Later in the morning, delegates from across the nation will attend a "rally for life" in Lafayette Park across from the White House, with pro-life speakers calling on President Ford to support a human life amendment. He now supports a states' rights amendment, which would bring the power to prohibit or permit abortion back to each individual state, similar to the period before the 1973 Supreme Court decision.

A "march for life" from the White House down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Capitol will begin at noon. Marchers will form a "circle of life" around the Capitol, assembling on the West Terrace for speeches by congressmen and pro-life leaders. Lobbying in Congress and visiting representatives and senators will fill the day.

The Washington flight sponsored by the two area pro-life groups is open to the public and members of all pro-life groups in Illinois, Missouri and adjoining states. Accommodations at the Loew's L'Enfant Plaza Hotel, Washington, will vary according to occupancy. The $8 prayer breakfast is optional.

Reservations are to be made by Jan. 2 but will be taken later if space is still available. Further details on the trip are being given by John C. Henry, St. Mary's Hospital, 129 N. 8th St., East St. Louis 62201 (274-1900, ext. 279).

'Take it easy' for holidays, troopers warn

Illinois State Police yesterday reminded motorists that holidays usually take a tragic accident toll, and warned Christmas and New Year's celebrants to "take it easy on the highways."

In a statement issued at the District Six Police headquarters at Maryville, officers said:

"Once again we are approaching the holiday seasons. Will you have a safe and Happy Holiday? It's up to you, "the driver," to make it a safe holiday.

"Remember, we have many adverse conditions that we must adjust to, (by slowing down), less daylight, heavy traffic, bad weather, road conditions, vehicle condition and driver condition."

"Add a little alcohol to the above ingredients and your holidays can end in tragedy."

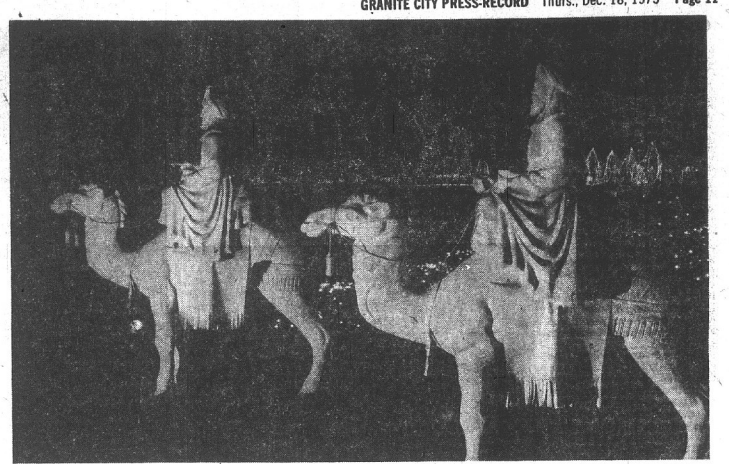

Provisional figures indicate that during the month of November 168 persons died as a result of traffic accidents in Illinois. As of Dec. 12, there were 1,925 fatalities, compared to 1,900 for the same period in 1974, an increase of 25 over last year. Illinois had 1,961 fatalities in 1974.

"With the help of every driver, we can still show a decline in our fatalities over last year."

SPORTS AUTHORITY TO AUTOGRAPH BOOK

Newsports authority Robert Burnes will visit Waldenbooks, 224 St. Clair Square, Fairview Heights, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Friday to autograph copies of his newly released book, Big Red, Story of the Football Cardinals.

WISE MEN point the way to the birthplace of Jesus in this scene of the "Way of Lights" display at the Our Lady of the Snows shrine on Highway 460 west of

Contract let for lift station at Coolidge

The Granite City Board of Education awarded a contract Tuesday night to Korte and Luitjohann, Highland, for construction of an 8-inch sanitary sewer lift station at Coolidge Junior High School on a bid of $41,500 during a meeting at the board office.

Bids also were submitted on the alternate specifications by G. H. Sternberg Contracting Co.

for $72,100 and from C. D. Peters Construction Co. for $48,845.

Board approval was given to Robert Maxwell, vocational director, to purchase two lots on Hamilton Drive in Northland Estates, costing $3,000 each, for the building trades project.

The request was accompanied by a statement from Frank Krause, assistant superintendent, and William Schooley, school attorney, agreeing the property was the best value for the money, is convenient to both high schools and has available utilities for building houses by students of both high schools.

Board members also accepted an agreement with the city of Granite City to grant a parcel of land on the east side of Lake School as right-of-way for extension of Maryville Road commencing at the intersection of 2nd Street and Highway 162.

The board also noted there will be a fence erected along the school property for the protection of the students of Lake School.

During the meeting, a slide presentation and informational brochures were made available by the J. B. Johnson Career Development Center near Alton.

George Abner, coordinating director, and James H. Adams, guidance coordinator of the newly constructed school, spoke after the slide showing of 34 career occupations courses offered at the school.

There are 15 courses programmed for the industrially-oriented occupations, two in the health field, four in agricultural, six available in business and seven in personal and service occupations.

The two guest speakers announced the school on Humbert Road is 95 per cent completed and the school will be ready for regular classes in September 1976.

The career education program is conducted by Alton Community Unit School District 11 in cooperation with Bethalto, Brussels, Calhoun, East Alton-Wood River, Granite City, Jerseyville, Marquette, Roxana and Southwestern Community Unit school districts.

Resignations were accepted from Shirley A. McCullough, Marshall School; K. Annis Clark, visually impaired teacher, and Betty Phillips, Stalling, all of whom are moving from the area; Terry Tessary as North High School monitor to return to substitute teaching, and Carol Mayras, school attorney.

It was agreed by the board members to hold only one meeting next month on Jan. 13, instead of the regular two meetings held on the first and third Tuesdays.

cafeteria employee. Leaves of absence were granted to Janice Burk, Maryville School, and to Jane E. Lux, Title I nurse.

Board members denied requests of Miss Selma Nelson, counselor at South High School, for two years more of employment past the retirement date set by board policy, and Mary Cory, cafeteria employee, to return to work after originally requesting leave of absence for the school year.

Eldon Hahn was hired as custodian, Dennis Kunnenman, as North High School campus monitor for the remainder of the year, and Laverne Corbett as counselor at South High School.

The board also hired two teachers, Mrs. Judith K. Deutch, of Normal, Ill., to be assigned as special education and visually impaired teacher, and Mrs. Dorothy Gilles of Edwardsville, as special education music half time, both effective Jan. 5.

Board approval was given to use two teachers in the Girls Physical Education and Sports department, who would have temporary positions of building coordinators for the girls' PE programs at both South and North High Schools, as extra-curricular assignments.

It was agreed by the board members to hold only one meeting next month on Jan. 13, instead of the regular two meetings held on the first and third Tuesdays.

10 Devils score as Venice High chalks up 99-36 basketball win

Avid basketball fans and authorities on the sport consider a high school team to be of state championship caliber on the basis of many factors, including an effective offense and defense, the season record and the ability to bounce back from a bitter loss.

If those are among the criteria required to qualify as a champion, the Venice Red Devils may be off and running once again toward the Class A state crown. They met all those requirements Tuesday evening to wallop Valmeyer 99-36 in the Venice High School gymnasium.

The Red Devils held Valmeyer to a lone free throw point in the first quarter while racing to a 30-1 lead, and then added 34 points in the second period while yielding only eight to the visitors for a 64-9 halftime score.

Venice mentor Richard Essington cleared the bench early in the third period, using a mixture of junior varsity and sophomore team players.

The big lead gave other members of the Red Devil team an ideal opportunity to see varsity action.

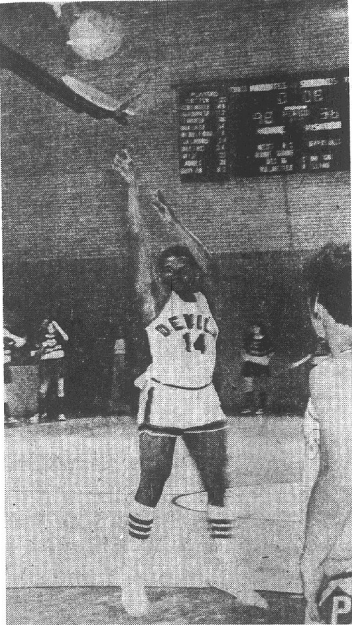

The Red Devil non-regular starters not only saw action but created it, extending the lead to 82-22 and then posting 17 points to Valmeyer's 14 in the final period.

Ten different Red Devils scored, while six opposing cagers accounted for Valmeyer's scoring, led by Bob Kipping's 12 points.

Of Venice's 16 pointmakers, five scored in double figures—Reggie Gardner, Ricky Salmond and Ronald Salmond, with 18 apiece, Jaffee Woolfork with 16 and James Crowder with 12.

Rounding out the Red Devil scoring were James Turner with six, Tim Walker five, and Bryan Mathis, Charles Cotton and Anthony Wise, two points apiece.

Mathis had earlier scored 16 points in a junior varsity contest which saw Venice win 52-32. Crowder grabbed 11 missed shots off the boards, Mathis eight and Ricky Salmond seven to account for a portion of the 99TH POINT is scored by Tim Walker for Venice High School in its 99-36 win over Valmeyer here Tuesday night. The score was 98-36 and Walker was awarded two free throws with eight seconds remaining. He made this and the next shot, but the 100th point did not count because his foot crossed the line.

Red Devils' 45 rebound recoveries.

Venice hit 47 of 99 from the floor and five free throws. Valmeyer put 13 shots into the basket and connected on 10 charity tosses. Venice committed 15 fouls and the visitors' 13.

The win gave the defending state champions a 3-1 mark, Venice having lost only to East TORRID SCORING PACE by Venice High School basketball players included pointmaking by Reggie Gardner (12), shown in the third quarter. The host Red Devils won 99-36.

Warrior five sharp in win over Rosary

Coach Bryan Wilkinson's Warrior cagers ended a losing "dry spell" Tuesday evening at the Granite City gymnasium with a big 74-46 victory over St. Louis Rosary High.

The Warriors this season were winless in five outings before taking to the court against Rosary, but they took control of the contest from the start to lead 21-10, 46-13 and 62-35 at the quarters.

Warrior John Slay, a 6-4 junior, had scored in double figures each game until the Belleville West contest Saturday, when he tallied only two points due to seeing limited action because of illness.

Slay connected for 20 points Tuesday in heading three teammates in double-figure scoring. Jim Nolan had 14, Terry Angle 12 and Mike McReaven 10.

Rick Fancher added six points, Frank Holmes and Jon

Lakin four each, and David Rhodes and Tim Anderson two each.

South made good on 31 of 61 attempts from the floor, and tossed 12 of 16 foul shots through the net. Rosary High hit 21 of 43 field goal attempts and six of 16 charity tosses.

The Warriors committed the most fouls, 21-16, but had the fewest turnovers, 20-26.

Each side recovered 29 rebounds, with Angle garnering six.

"Rosary played a good game," said South's athletic coordinator Roger Smith, "but we really clicked on defense and hit from all over the floor to control things from the start—something we haven't done in a long time."

South's defense held Rosary's high scorer, Seneiser, to 14 points in handling the St. Louis club its sixth loss against no wins.

Turnovers help Trojan quintet win at Lebanon

Area basketball fans jammed into the Lebanon High School gymnasium Tuesday evening to witness what was expected to be a mighty battle between Madison and the Lebanon Greyhounds.

The contest disappointed no one except Lebanon fans, as both schools engaged in a torrid "shoot-out" from the floor throughout the first half of play before the Trojans ran away with the contest in the third period. Final score was 83-71 after quarter scores of 16-16, 38-31 and 61-45.

Madison's Jones brothers, Ron and Randall, combined to put all but 24 of Madison's points on the scoreboard and together accounted for 22 of the Trojans' 34 rebound recoveries.

Each school put eight field goals through the net in the first quarter, and Joe Gulash's game-opening back-to-back charity tosses helped give Madison an edge at the end of the period.

Ron Jones, 6-3 senior, scored two points and Randall Jones, 6-3 junior, eight in the opening period. The two brothers garnered 18 of Madison's 20 second-period points.

Madison extended its margin to 61-45 going into the final period of play after scoring 23 third-quarter points to Lebanon's 14. Ron Jones netted 10 points and Randall 11 in the quarter.

The Greyhounds rallied in the fourth period with 26 points to Madison's 22. Ron Jones scored 10.

Lebanon had trailed 12-4 after missing 11 shots from the floor, but was able to deadlock the contest at 16-16 with 1:06 showing on the clock on a basket by Ray Mack.

Madison's Edwin Garrett got the go ahead field goal.

Rodney Brooks, who fouled out of the game with nine seconds remaining, garnered 23 points for Lebanon. Don Burns had 17 and Richard Norman 12.

Lebanon's loss was its second of the season, the team having bowed in a season-opener to Belleville Althoff 79-77 in double overtime.

Since then, the Greyhounds had reeled off five straight wins before falling to Madison.

Madison now has a 5-1 mark, the team having lost a one-point squeaker, 62-61, to Venice.

Overall, Madison hit on 35 of 68 field goals, and Lebanon on 34 of 80. Madison also topped the Greyhounds at the foul line, making 11 of 13 charity tosses to the hosts' three of nine.

Each team committed 12 fouls, and Lebanon had the most turnovers, 23-16. On the boards, Lebanon held the margin by 42-34.

Accounting for the Trojans' total points were: Ron Jones 34, Randall Jones 25, and Joe Gulash, Danny Bankhead, Edwin Garrett and Ron Williams, each with six points. Williams saw action for the second time that evening, having scored 21 points earlier in a 69-64 junior varsity victory over Lebanon, Madison's sixth straight jayvee win of the season against no losses.

Bankhead, a 6-0 senior transfer from California, was praised by Coach Larry Graham for his quickness and ballhandling.

"He gets the ball down court with speed," notes Graham. "He can display a lot of fancy dribbling and look to his left while jugging the open man, his right, confusing defenders."

"And, Ron and Randall," concluded Graham with a look of content—"their abilities and achievements speak for them."

Spirited volleyball competition for girls

Madison High School has joined GCHS North and GCHS South as participants this year in Illinois High School Association girls' volleyball competition.

South High has completed five contests of its eight-game schedule, North High two of its four-game schedule, and Madison one of its four games.

South, coached by Wilma Schulze, started the 1978-79 season on Dec. 4, MHS started on Dec. 11 and North, coached by Sharon Bloodworth, on Tuesday of this week.

Madison High, coached by Luvenia Long, is competing in its first season ever in the sport.

Head coach of Madison's girls' track team, Mrs. Long said the school began thinking of organizing other programs for the school's girl students last year.

"We are hoping," she said, "to possibly consider initiating girls' basketball and tennis teams next year."

Madison's volleyball program received approval two weeks ago, and selection of players was made on the day before the squad's season-opening contest at Alton. The host school won 20-6 and 20-9 in varsity competition, and 20-17, 20-6 at the junior varsity level.

Players who will be entered in Madison's record book as members of the school's first varsity volleyball team are: Seniors Robin Dutko and Regina London, Sophomores Alesia Jones, Debra Shear, Lucrétia Garrett and Rachell Taylor and Freshman Sheila Woodson.

Of the three high schools, GCHS South is the only one which will compete in a regular-season tournament.

South will vie in a three-day invitational hosted by Belleville West, beginning at 1 p.m. this Saturday in a contest with Belleville East.

Participating also in the eight-school meet are Westview High of Trenton, Red Bud, Belleville Althoff, Freeburg, Collinsville and host West High School.

A victory Saturday would advance South High to a semifinal contest on Monday at 8:30 p.m., against either West or Collinsville, with the victor earning the right to compete in the tournament's championship game Tuesday, Dec. 23, at 8:30 p.m.

12 advance to district hoop shoot competition

Twelve Quad-City area boys and girls earned the right to compete in district competition at Pana, Ill., next month by virtue of their performances during the weekend at Grigsby Jr. High School in competition with 83 others during the annual Elks Lodge 1063 "hoop shoot" free throw contest.

Richard Yates, chairman of the local contest, noted that 680 youths signed at their schools indicating they wished to participate and 264 returned registration forms. But 95 contestants reported to the Grigsby gymnasium for the event.

Each contestant was allowed 10 attempts to sink the ball through the net from the free throw line, with a girl and a boy champion and girl and boy runnerup named in each of three age groups—8-9, 10-11 and 12-13.

Winner and runnerup in each age group (with winner indicated first) were:

Elaine Reinagel, age 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reinagel, 2211 Waterman Ave., and Crystal Nance, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nance, 2704 Swan Drive.

Some bridge routes reopen

The Illinois Department of Transportation has announced that the repair of the interchange and approaches of the Poplar Street Bridge complex has progressed sufficiently to enable the reopening of additional roadway segments.

Today, Illinois Route 3 will be reopened for northbound traffic. This will allow traffic to again have direct access to St. Louis via Route 3 to westbound Interstate 55-70. Traffic will also be able to make connections with eastbound Interstate 55-70 from Route 3.

The segment of roadway allowing westbound traffic on Interstate 55-70 to exit to the south on Route 3 will remain closed. Westbound traffic desiring to go south on Route 3 will continue to exit at St. Clair Avenue and follow the marked detour via 9th Street, Broadway Avenue, 8th Street and Mississippi Avenue.

The Illinois Department of Transportation will provide periodic information regarding the routing of traffic through the complex as the work progresses. Motorists are asked to be patient and on the alert when traveling through the complex area, DOT officials said.

The repair work, being done under a contract with H. H. Hall Construction Co. and Illinois Ben Hur Co. for $3.4 million, was deemed necessary as it has been determined through the Department's bridge inspection program that some 342 expansion bearing were not functioning properly, which caused damage to the steel girders and tops of supporting piers.

The completion date for the contract is Nov. 1, 1976.

Governor is delaying tax refunds—Lindberg

Income tax refunds totaling $3.5 million to 13,050 Illinois citizens and 1,132 corporations are being delayed by Governor Walker's agencies as part of a widespread attempt to hide the fact that the state lacks the money to pay its bills promptly, Comptroller George W. Lindberg alleged Wednesday.

Vouchers authorizing the tax refunds are being held in the governor's Department of Finance, he said. Two of the vouchers, totaling $1 million to 3,313 individuals and 495 businesses, have been held by the DOF since Nov. 26, Lindberg asserted.

"In normal times, it takes the Department of Finance only a day or two to forward requests for income tax refund payments from the governor's agencies to the comptroller's office," the comptroller said.

He said that under normal financial conditions, the tax refund checks would be mailed on the afternoon of the day following receipt of the vouchers directing payment by the governor.

"The delays in making these income tax refunds to thousands of Illinoisans is only one symptom in the present situation in which the state cannot pay all its bills on time," Lindberg said.

"In addition to these income tax refund delays, there are payments to medical providers totaling at least $20 million being held up by the Department of Public Aid."

"Also, there are 24,000 senior citizens and disabled persons who are not receiving $3.6 million owed them under the state's circuit breaker tax refund program," Lindberg said.

"The telephones in the comptroller's office are carrying to us the cries of anguish from Illinois people who want to be paid the money they have coming at this Christmas season."

"But the comptroller must tell these people that the governor has not practiced the economy he preaches. And that is why the governor's agencies are not able to pay the bills on time. The money is not there."

The general revenue fund on Tuesday had $3.1 million in it, the comptroller said, following payment of $97.8 million in support to the state's common schools.

"If the governor submitted bills for payment, and the money was there in the treasury, we would be able to pay them within two working days," Lindberg said.

At the theater, the students saw the movie "1776," a musical film about the American independence efforts. Many of the students dressed in costumes representing five eras of American history. Leading the parade were the "Spirit of 76" unit with Scott Hayes playing a drum, John Causey with a fife and Brock Hill carrying the flag, imitating the famous painting of the same name.

The Social Studies Department of the school made the arrangements for the parade and the film. Participation was on a volunteer basis and all but about 175 students took part in the march.

Top prize winners for their costumes were Keith Selbert, who dressed as Abraham Lincoln, and Janette Wallis, who wore a Colonial costume with a bonnet and shawl.

Kathy Moran with a box made into a Spirit of 76 flag, and Donny Marcus in a Colonial Army uniform were second place winners. Third place went to Tim Werner as Mark Twain and Lisa Allen as a Pilgrim woman.

Others dressed in Pilgrim era costumes who were honored were Al Schultz, Kelly Revelle, Faith Oliver, Julie Lance and Craig Pilger.

Other Colonial era contestants honored were Don Marcus, Amy Kargnes and Cheryl Jameson. Civil War costume honors went to Melody Hand, Ruth Emory and Steve Mann.

Depression era costumes worn by Dee Christoff, Scott Beasley and Bob Cochran were judged the best in their class and Bret Franko, Keith Peck, Darla Boyce, Vicki Price, Karen Kessler and Tracy Taylor's costumes were judged best from the 1950s and World War II era.

The event was a welcome to the Bicentennial year and a way of getting the students involved in celebrating our nation's 200th birthday, according to Cal Bartles, principal of Prather.

Residents oppose closing of Franko

A petition signed by a majority of the residents of Franko Lane in Chouteau Township, opposing the closing of the road, was presented to the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors Monday night.

The board voted 3-2 to try and help the residents find a way to have the road reopened.

Three residents attended the meeting and gave the petition to the board.

Chouteau Township Highway Commissioner James Estes allegedly ordered cable placed across the road and it was closed about Nov. 10.

Estes said it was closed due to the request of a majority of the people living on it, because of the poor condition of the road and because of trash dumping, hunting and other misconduct by users of the road.

The residents at the meeting disagreed with Estes, saying the petition proves that a majority of the residents living on Franko Lane want the road open.

They objected to a comment by Estes that those living on the road had been asked before the road was closed, saying they did not know of anyone who had been contacted prior to the closing.

When Estes persisted that most of the residents had been contacted, the representatives at the meeting demanded the names of those who had been asked about the closing. Estes declined to give names.

After a heated discussion between Estes and the residents, Town Auditor Marion Sparks made a motion to refer the petition to the "highway commission" and let him deal with issue, without involvement by the town board. Auditor James Greer seconded the motion.

Both voted for it and they were outvoted by Auditors Charles Bedwell and Wilfred "Bud" Eberhardt and by Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks, who broke the tie.

Sparks indicated that the action authorized the board to try and find a way to assist the residents in the fight to have the township road reopened.

Sparks said he would take the petition to Madison County Superintendent of Highways Lester Miller and request help.

Miller ordered Estes on Nov. 14 to reopen the road, saying it was a township road and could not be closed without proper proceedings to vacate the roadway.

Estes said he would open the road when his department had an opportunity to repair it. Later, he said he would see his attorney, William Schooley, to discuss vacating procedures.

Still later, after a second notice from Miller to open the road, he said he will do so after he has had an opportunity to repair it.

Miller has referred the issue to the Madison County state's attorney's office.

A resident said that of the ten families residing on Franko, all but the Burton family signed the petition submitted Monday night.

Four families residing on an extension, Old Waterworks Road, west of St. Thomas Road, also signed the petition, it was related.

All urge open access from Route 30 to Highway Three. They stress that the closing is causing great inconvenience and delay, and add that Franko is an adequate roadway when properly maintained.

The duty to maintain it was accepted by the township when the road originally was proved, the petitions contend. While Franko Lane includes an unguarded railroad crossing, there is a good view on both sides and the tracks are not in actual use, they add.

Steel shipments at 6-million-ton level

During October, domestic steel shipments declined after two months of increases, new American Iron and Steel Institute figures showed this week.

Domestic mills sent customers 6,377,000 tons of steel products during the month, compared to 7,632,000 tons in September and 9,374,000 tons during October 1974.

The automotive industry was steel's biggest customer during October for the sixth consecutive month, receiving 1,335,000 tons during the month.

Total steel shipments for the first 10 months of 1975 were 68,178,000 tons, the lowest total for a 10-month period since 1963.

Of the 6,377,000 tons of shipments in October, 228,000 tons were exported, bringing total exports for the year to 2,587,000 tons.

During October, steel imports reached their highest total in four months, 816,000 tons of foreign steel arrived in the United States during the month.

This was up from 697,000 tons in September, and also was the largest import total since June's 927,000 tons.

Through the first 10 months of 1975, steel imports had reached 9,957,000 tons. This compares with the 12,136,000 tons of steel imported during the same period of last year.

However, although the import tonnage was down 18 per cent from the comparable period of 1974, foreign steel accounted for a larger share of the nation's apparent steel supply.

Through the first ten months of this year, imports constituted 13.2 per cent of this country's total steel supply, compared to 12.0 per cent for the same period last year.

The value of steel imports was down less than six per cent compared with 1974. By the end of October, this year's trade deficit in steel mill products exceeded $1.9 billion.

Specialty steel producers in this country have been under severe pressure from imports this year, the AISI said.

Through the first 10 months of 1975, imports accounted for about 20 per cent of the domestic apparent stainless steel supply, and nearly 30 per cent of the nation's apparent tool steel supply.

Employment in the domestic steel industry declined again in October following a one-month upturn in September; 435,400 persons were engaged in the production and marketing of steel during October, the lowest employment level since December 1971.

The October figure was a decrease of 10,400 from September's 445,800.

In October 1974, employees engaged in production and marketing of steel numbered 512,300, but that figure fell each of the next 10 months until September, when employment increased 3,600.

Domestic steel producers paid out $631,197,000 in wages and salaries during October of this year, bringing the total for the first 10 months of 1975 to $6,229,924,000.

Total employment costs per hour for hourly employees were $10.91 in October, compared with $9.06 average for 1974, including the costs of employment benefits, such as pensions, insurance, supplemental unemployment benefits, the non-payroll portion of savings and vacation plan costs and legally required payroll taxes. The figures cover employees engaged in steel production and marketing and exclude those in mining, fabrication and other non-steel operations.

Adopt a pet at APA shelter at Army base

Playful puppies, frisky kittens and older dogs and cats are available for adoption at the permanent shelter of the Quad-City Association for Protection of Animals (APA), located at the Granite City Army Installation.

To enable families and individuals seeking to adopt a pet in time for Christmas, special adoption sessions have been set from 9:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the APA's main shelter on the Army base grounds.

Usually, adoption clinics are conducted monthly at a small cabin in Nameoki Village Shopping Center, Mrs. Mary Ann Loftus, adoption supervisor, explained.

Mrs. Loftus reminded those planning to obtain a pet at Christmas time, whether through the APA or purchase one at a pet shop, that animals taken into the home are not "toys."

"You can't put a dog or cat away like you can a toy. They need care and attention everyday," she said. "In return, they will give you companionship and love," Mrs. Loftus added.

Each adopted puppy or dog needs a leash, collar and food. Cats should be provided with a litter box, litter and cat food, the APA volunteer noted.

Cats available for adoption before Christmas, include Sabula, a white, orange-eyed Persian, 1½ years old; a litter of long haired kittens; Tammy, a 12-year-old female black and white Persian, who would make an ideal pet for an elderly person; and Mitzi, a 1½-year-old spayed brown tabby with long hair.

Among the dogs being offered this weekend are a litter of half-beagle puppies; Missy, a part-Sheltie female, 2 years old who loves children; and Gigi, a white half-poodle, also 2 years old.

A special favorite of shelter personnel ready for adoption is Bear, a 2-year-old standard black male poodle. The animal has been severely mistreated in past, including being deliberately hurt from a car into the path of an oncoming truck, Mrs. Loftus said.

The truck driver rescued the injured animal and Bear was nursed back to health by the humane group.

The local animal association is a non-profit organization supported solely by private contributions and volunteer services.

A nominal adoption fee is asked from those wishing to adopt an animal. The funds are used to provide other pets left in the APA's care with food and medical attention, Mrs. Loftus explained.

Demo Club seeks members

A meeting of the newly organized Democratic Club was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, highlighted by a discussion on the club's by-laws and appointment of committees.

An amendment to the by-laws stating that the club will not endorse any candidate for public office was approved unanimously.

Those appointed by president Nick Petrillo to the membership committee were Chris Von Nida, Weldon Burch, Elsie Mayhew and Cathy Kalchoff; activities committee, Mike Russo, Mike Johnson, Mike Modrusie, Rich Reutebuch and Jim Barton, and finance, Roy Logan, Mat Ozanich, Alexander Toth and George Valicoff.

The president stressed the need to seek new members with a particular emphasis on the young. An evening prize was won by Fred Schmitt.

Attending the meeting were 119 current members.

Yule decor is Gardenaires topic

The Gardenaires met last week at the Greenery Tea Room, Edwardsville, for a holiday luncheon and a program in keeping with the club's year-long theme, "Celebrating the Bicentennial." Since December has been designated "festive month," Mrs. Albert Malottki, program chairman, spoke on Christmas decorations of Colonial Williamsburg.

She showed illustrations of materials and styles used in decorating the historic area for the holiday season and spoke of the background of the natural materials used and the customs which originated in Williamsburg and still are observed today.

President Mrs. Charles Kohl presided at a business session and roll call was answered with information on celery, the vegetable of the month.

Mini-garden chairman Mrs. Malottki reported monthly displays and the information area at the Granite City Public Library will be resurfaced after the interior remodeling project is completed.

Mrs. Alex Tarpoff, who represents the club on the committee for the development of the Madison County Nature Trail, announced the material to construct a sign for the entrance has been purchased. She said three Boy Scout Troops are working to install a four-foot wood chip mulch path and plans to plant trees along the trail will be scheduled, subject to the weather conditions.

Others attending were Mesdames Abe Shannon, William Long, Mary Kristian, Roy Hormann, Earl Glenn, John Farrell, C. E. Eads, Thomas Layloff Jr., R. K. Hintz and Jerry Arbeiter.

The Jan. 8 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Leo Schank. An expert appraising MORRIS REALTY CO. 876-4400

Opposition for 3 county offices

A three-way race for Madison County state's attorney and a fight between the incumbent circuit clerk and a Madison County Board member will highlight the Democratic primary bid for county offices.

It was disclosed as the period for filing petitions of candidacy closed Monday evening. Candidates may withdraw through noon Saturday.

The state's attorney race will pit the incumbent, Nicholas G. Byron of Edwardsville, against former associate judge, William E. "Bill" Johnson of Edwardsville, and Steve Maragides, 1020 Grand Ave., Madison, according to present filings. Johnson also has filed as a candidate for Circuit Judge and must withdraw one of the candidacies.

Madison Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell will be opposed in his re-election attempt by James E. Greene, a member of the county board who is from Alton.

Another Democratic primary fight is expected between the county's Recorder of Deeds, Ronald R. Lucas of Maryville, and George A. Turner, East Alton.

Although County Coroner Mrs. Dallas M. Burke of Alton is unopposed in the Democratic bid for re-election, Hugh R. Hairston, 900 Main St., Venice, has filed for that post on the Republican side and may oppose Mrs. Burke in the general election. Hairston was the only Republican to file for a county office.

Unopposed on the Democratic primary election ballot will be John L. Kraynak, 2592

Waterman Ave., Granite City, incumbent county auditor.

Only five of the 14 Democratic Madison County Board members who are up for re-election escaped opposition. There are fights in each of the four districts that involve the Quad-City area.

In District 22, incumbent Herbert "Junior" Milton, 2153 Washington Ave., is opposed by Jim Perdue Sr., 2113 Grand Ave. In District 23, the incumbent, Jay D. Maurer, 608 Washington Ave., Venice, will face Jack Hagop Varadani, 1744 Olive St.

A District 24 contest involves incumbent Arthur W. "Cooper" Moore, 1609 Elizabeth St., Madison, against Gary R. Novich, 921 Lee Ave., Madison.

A three-way race has developed in District 25, which includes portions of Granite City, State Park Place and Collinsville. Homer M. Boothman, Collinsville, the incumbent, is opposed on the Democratic ticket by Joe Boyer, State Park Place, and Chris W. Von Nida, 2332 E. 24th St.

There is no Republican opposition in any of the Quad-City area districts.

Unopposed Democratic candidates for county board are: J. J. "Doc" Gramlich of Highland in District One; H. Jack Frandsen, Alhambra, District Three; William L. "Bill" Little, Alton, District Seven; Donald W. McLean, Edwardsville, District 17; and Michael Semanias, Maryville, District 27. Hays Mallory, incumbent of Edwardsville District 17 did not file.

In District Two, incumbent Paul O. Richold of Troy is opposed by "Buck" Baruch and J. Robert Schuck, both of Troy, and James E. Saffel Sr., Edwardsville.

District Eight competition pits Edward D. "Big Ed" Vonnard, Alton, the incumbent, against Richard Hugh Worthen, Alton.

In District 14, Democratic voters will choose between incumbent Roger J. Eble, Wood River, and George Allen Turner, East Alton.

Charles F. Bode, Edwardsville, the incumbent, faces Barth Legate, Edwardsville, in District 18.

A three-way race in District 29 involves incumbent Michael Pellegrin, Collinsville, against Frank Vived, Edward C. Cook and John Forneris, all of Collinsville.

Republican County Board filings are: District Two, Lawrence Speelman, Troy; District Three, Udell Wehling, Alhambra; District Four, Homer Henke, Moro, the incumbent; District Seven, Earl

"Kurlee" Herrin, Alton, and District 29, Susan Lee Burroughs, Collinsville.

Three persons also have filed for the three open positions on the non-partisan regional board of school trustees. They are Homes A. Huber, 3245 Willow Ave., Joseph N. Berry, Alton, and Gordon Burroughs, Edwardsville.

The primary election will be March 16, and the general election Nov. 2. The county clerk's office in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville will be open until noon Saturday for candidates to withdraw if they choose.

South band opens its 33rd concert season

A capacity audience heard the Granite City High School South Band open its 33rd season with their traditional Christmas concert Thursday in the school auditorium.

The stage was decorated in keeping with the season. The girls were dressed in formal and the boys wore band uniforms.

The band accompanied the Advanced Mixed Chorus in "Sleigh Ride."

The finale included a number of Christmas carols.

The band was under the direction of Terry Waffer and Mrs. Mary Ann Bright directed the chorus.

Santa Claus visited the children attending.

As the band closed with "I'll See You Again," the crowd gave the group a standing ovation.

Slides down hill

A man and wife were injured when their auto, turning from the Madison County Nature Trail into a driveway at 4501 Highway 162, slid in mud down a hill and struck a pole Monday.

Treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital were the driver, Jack Brown, 32, of 3045 Dale Ave., who suffered contusions to his neck, chest and knees, and his wife, Mrs. Phyllis Brown, 27, who suffered abrasions to her right cheek and her mouth and an injury to her chest.

Lock out Yuletide burglars

If diamonds are a girl's best friend, then Christmas time can be the burglar's boomer buddy unless the homeowner shuts the doors and windows in his face.

Nearly every police department in the nation has a list of "musts" and "must nots" for Harry the Homeowner, all aimed at outsmarting the housebreaker.

While they usually are dragged out for public consumption about this time of year, most of the anti-burglary ground rules apply as well for the other 11 months. What they add up to is a lot of common sense.

For example, it doesn't take a smart cop to tell you that leaving the curtains open in front of the gift-covered Christmas tree is like sending an engraved invitation to the burglar who may be "casing" your neighborhood.

If you must do your last-minute Yule shopping, even at a nearby store, lock all the doors. And that goes for any other forages away from the house, too. It takes the professional burglar only a few minutes to ransack the house. You might even return to find him inside. The cornered burglar can be an ugly character.

If you aren't especially neighborly all year, try to be at Christmas time. If you see a stranger roaming the neighborhood, notify the police, especially if you know one of your neighbors is away from home.

Another wise move, police say, is to question people observed removing property from neighboring homes unless you recognize them as friends or relatives. Sometimes that will scare them away if they are thieves masquerading as movers or someone with authority to enter the house.

Be sure also to record license numbers of strange cars parked in the neighborhood or seen cruising by slowly. The occupants might be looking for likely burglary targets after the sun goes down.

Don't leave packages lying in plain sight on the seats of your car. Thieves from cars—locked or unlocked—mount sharply during the Christmas shopping season.

So put the packages in the trunk or on the floor and cover them.

As for locked autos, the professional thief can open your car door in a matter of seconds. And not all shopping center parking lots hire security guards, even at Christmas time. Moreover, guards can't always keep an eye on an entire area at once.

If you buy gifts with serial numbers, such as electrical appliances, keep a list of the numbers. Then if your home is burglarized the list will make it easier for police to track down the stolen items and see that they are returned to you.

If you can't produce a list of numbers or other identifying marks, police sometimes will refuse to return stolen property.

The same precautions apply to clothing. Instead of a serial number, make your own identifying mark so you can tell police about it later.

Most people lock their garages if they contain valuable property. At Christmas time it's a "must." Sometimes burglars use tools found in the garage to break into the house, police warn.

If you leave town for a day or more during the holidays, arrange with a neighbor to leave lights or Christmas ornaments burning at night near front and rear doors. Burglars are watching to see what houses are temporarily unoccupied.

Even with all these and other holiday precautions, the Christmas burglary rates rise annually in most cities. But you don't have to be one of the statistics. Police say the tougher you make it for the burglar, the less likely he is to make your home one of his Yuletide targets.

CHRISTMAS SECURITY—Professional burglars seeking Yuletide loot often break into homes by untracking glass sliding doors. A simple way to burglar-proof these doors is to drill a hole through the top channel into the top of the door frame and insert a metal pin, as above. The door then will be secure from sliding or untracking.

Scott okays new law on boards, supervisors

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott said Tuesday he has issued a legal opinion that a new state law permits a person to simultaneously hold the offices of county board member and township supervisor.

The opinion was issued at the request of William K. O'Connor, state's attorney of Henry County.

Scott's opinion took note of a new state law that went into effect Oct. 1. That law (Public Act 79-457) was designed to overcome legal views expressed in an opinion from the attorney general last March, which held that holding the two offices simultaneously was unlawful.

The new opinion notes that the law now permits a person to be elected to a county board in November 1976, and also be elected township supervisor in April 1977.

The new law also permits incumbent board members to serve in the same dual capacity. In other recent opinions, Scott advised:

—Mary Lee Leahy, director, Department of Children and Family Services, that Illinois law defines child "abuse and neglect" in the same manner as federal regulations, thus including an act of "threatened harm."

—William J. Cowlin, McHenry County state's attorney, that a proposed county ordinance to limit the number of licensed private sewage disposal contractors, and to require their residence in the county, would be arbitrary and unreasonable and, therefore, invalid.

—William K. O'Connor,

Henry County state's attorney, that an ordinance providing cost-of-living raises for certain elected county officials, based on discretionary action and review by the county board, is invalid due to constitutional provisions.

DEADLINE DEC. 20
Saturday is the deadline for applications to be submitted by persons wishing to take a test for professional and administrative job openings in federal agencies. Applications should be submitted to the University Placement Service at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The test will be given Jan. 17.

Bentsen cites unemployment

Senator Lloyd Bentsen (D-Texas), a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, said this week the economic well being of the people of Illinois will be a central issue in his campaign in this state.

"As far as I am concerned," said Bentsen, "the economic policies of the Nixon and Ford administrations have been one of the most wasteful government policies in the history of the nation."

"Current levels of unemployment this year alone have cost the American economy over $20 billion. That's enough money to build five million three-bedroom homes or to send a million students through four years of medical school."

Bentsen added, "The working family, the small businessman and the farmer of Illinois have been paying the price for these badly-designed economic policies."

"Today, there are over 470,000 people unemployed in Illinois. This is more than double what it was when Richard Nixon took over the White House in 1969."

"We must and we can put Americans back to work. Our campaign is going to enlist people of all political backgrounds to mount an effort aimed at getting this country moving again."

Conferring the degrees were Linda Koenig and JoAnn Macos.

Others present were Carol Cathey, Martha Jean Dyer, Marilyn Harris, Jeanie Herman, Barbara Jones, Donna Lane, Lois Mullin, Barbara Painter, Sally Stuegelmeyer and Patricia Winters.

Corral license order challenged

A Madison County Circuit Court order that a tavern license be issued by Granite City to the O.K. Corral lounge, 3304 (rear) Nameoki Road, was challenged Monday night by Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward, who said the "wrong procedure" was followed in attempting to resolve the license issue.

Dawes told the City Council during its regular meeting that the request for a license should have gone first to the Illinois State Liquor Control Commission, whose ruling then could have been appealed to the circuit court by either the city or by Boris C. Gitcho, owner of the new tavern, under construction.

Dawes, who has spearheaded efforts by residents living near the new tavern site to prevent construction of the building and the issuance of a license for its operation, said he "is not through with this yet."

"I'll take the matter to Springfield, if I have to," he said.

A Class A tavern license was issued to the O.K. Corral last week after Associate Judge John W. Day granted a writ of mandamus on a petition by Jan Gitcho, manager of Corral Liquors, 3304 Nameoki Road.

The order to issue the license was directed to Mayor Paul Schuler who, as mayor, is liquor control commissioner for the city.

Mayor Schuler earlier denied a license for the O.K. Corral on grounds that the city's liquor control ordinance provides that a license cannot issue to a place retailing alcoholic beverages if it is within 400 feet of another such establishment.

Judge Day held this section of the ordinance "void and invalid," noting that the city had no legal authority to enact such a law.

"I've read these statements about our law (on distance) superseding the state law; but how can it supersede something the state doesn't have?" Dawes said. "I don't think the court had the right to act in this case without it first going to Springfield (to the liquor control board)."

Dawes told the aldermen that he had talked with former city officials about a previous case in Granite City in which a tavern operator who had been refused a license took his case directly to the Circuit Court and was told by the court that he first would have to seek his license through the state control board.

"I think this has been the wrong procedure and the judge has no right to order this license until there is action on it by the state control commission," Dawes commented.

Residents in the neighborhood of the tavern site at first opposed construction of the O.K. Corral tavern building on grounds that drainage plans were insufficient. Boris Gitcho, owner of the Corral Liquors and builder of the O.K. Corral, later obtained council approval of the drainage with a revised program.

The area residents then petitioned the council to deny a license, followed by the mayor's refusal to issue the license and the subsequent mandamus proceedings in circuit court.

David Maycock, leader of the area residents in their move to block operation of the tavern, was asked if he had any comment during Monday night's meeting.

"All I can say," Maycock remarked, "is that it is apparent that the court order is not going to be appealed."

Boris Gitcho, also in the audience at the time, told the council:

"I started developing property in that area (Nameoki) 19 years ago and I know that property has been a commercial area for more than 25 years. I have done only what other people do with commercial property."

"I have developed a number of properties along Nameoki Road and they are an asset to the community."

"Dawes makes a mistake when he says that residential owners will lose money on their property because of commercial property nearby. That isn't true. Actually they will make money. Properties that have been located near commercial areas are known to sell for higher value than before the commercial property was built."

"There are people who like to live near commercial sites." "Will you buy it (the residential property)?" Dawes asked Gitcho.

"I will," Gitcho replied, "for what they paid for it."

A notice sent to the council concerning the writ of mandamus issued by the court was placed on file on a motion by Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward.

GC youth, 17, charged in marijuana theft at jail

Terry L. Dickerman, 17, of 4720 Warnock Ave., was arrested last yesterday and was charged with the burglary in the theft of about 158 pounds of marijuana from an evidence storage room at the Madison County Jail.

Madison County Sheriff John Maeras said the arrest followed an investigation started when the theft was discovered Oct. 27.

It is alleged the marijuana was stolen while Dickerman was a prisoner between June 20 and Aug. 19 and was assigned as an outside trustee with a room adjacent to the evidence storage area.

In early July, he allegedly pried a plywood cover from a small crawl space between the top of the wall and the ceiling and gained entry to the evidence storage area where the marijuana was kept.

"Once inside, it appears Dickerman opened the inside wood door to the room and squeezed through the bars of the outside metal door to remove the marijuana," Maeras alleged.

He noted Dickerman is very small, being about 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weighing about 119 pounds.

Maeras said there are no indications the burglar may have had help from another prisoner who served as the lookout. A 19-year-old Earl St. Louis man who presently is serving a sentence at Menard State Prison is suspected. His name is being withheld pending the issuance of a warrant.

Maeras noted the investigation, thus far, has not determined where the marijuana was taken and none has been recovered. He said the investigation will continue.

Dickerman was charged with burglary on a warrant issued by Circuit Judge John Gitchoff at Edwardsville. He was being held this morning in the Madison County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Sheriff Maeras noted in announcing the arrest, "The investigation has failed to disclose any information which would implicate any member of the sheriff's department in the theft. It appears solely the work of prisoners assigned at the jail."

Airport hearing likely Jan. 13

A hearing on the future of Lambert Airport in St. Louis and a proposed new airport at Columbia-Waterloo has been tentatively for Jan. 13 by U.S. Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman.

The hearing at the Bel Air Hilton Hotel originally was set for today.

Coleman changed it Tuesday to Dec. 23, and yesterday postponed it until January after being informed that many who planned to testify today would not be able to attend next week.

Public officials and citizens both for and against the proposed new airport are to be heard in four one-hour sessions, both verbally and through written comments.

Coleman has said he hopes to make a final ruling in January on whether land acquisition for a new airport should proceed.

Lambert advocates say it should remain in use by airways indefinitely because of possible economic losses through its conversion to a general airport.

Those who favor preparations for a new airport contend Lambert is hemmed-in and will limit this region's economic potential and population growth.

A strong stand for Columbia-Waterloo was taken Monday afternoon at a luncheon in St. Louis by Illinois Governor Daniel Walker, who quipped that he was late in arriving because he had to land at crowded Lambert.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, president of the Southwestern Illinois Conference of Mayors, opened the meeting, attended by several hundred Illinoisans and Missourians.

Illinois Transportation Director Langhorne Bond spoke briefly, and the governor was introduced by Clarence Barksdale, president of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

A citizen study commissioned by RCGA urged Columbia-Waterloo site acquisition and improvement of Lambert.

Chairman of the eight-member study group, Dr. John Rendleman of SLUC and Fr. Paul C. Reinert of St. Louis University, were introduced.

Gov. Walker urged regional approach and said if there was no state boundary in this area a new airport unquestionably would be established at Columbia-Waterloo. Instead, the proposal has attracted strong opposition, he noted.

He said the proposed airport would be a big economic and employment stimulus for both states as well as serving as a catalyst for related prosperity and job growth.

New highway links are being built to the area regardless of the airport decision, due to other development and the need for access, it was asserted.

Outside forces dominate agriculture, Steele says

Farmers' greatest challenge today is the challenge of domination from forces outside agriculture, Illinois Farm Bureau President Harold B. Steele told the 61st annual meeting of the Illinois farm organization in Chicago during the weekend.

He warned farmers that they cannot sit idly by and let these outside forces shape their destiny. "Farmers must take the lead in setting a national strategy for agriculture, and only through an organization with the strength and ability of Farm Bureau can we make ourselves heard."

"But if we are to have a voice, we can't wait. We must act now," Steele emphasized.

Among those who would like to dominate agriculture are some elements of the Presidential Administration, part of the new Congress, and some organized labor groups.

"New urban-oriented Congressmen, the State Department, economists—both in and out of government—and organized labor have all had an effect on swaying the attitudes of the administration in regard to agriculture," Steele said.

"It has been found, and demonstrated, that government can control agriculture just as effectively by manipulating our foreign markets as it did in past years with accumulated surpluses and payment programs. What's more, this new method of government domination does not even require the investment of tax dollars as the old plans did."

Refusal of longshoremen's unions to load grain bound for the Soviet Union has led to the resulting moratorium on grain sales to the Soviet Union and Poland are examples of this manipulation which were cited by Steele.

"A strong agriculture demands a strong and reliable labor force to process and move its product to consumers in this country and overseas. One cannot succeed without the other," the farm leader said.

But he added that George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and other labor leaders "should recognize that a labor force that takes actions which cripple agriculture is only contributing to its own demise."

But despite these and other efforts to control the fate of agriculture, farmers—through confident and determined action—have enjoyed some important successes in the governmental arena.

To fight the longshoremen boycott, Farm Bureau met with union officials to present evidence that foreign sales would benefit—not harm—U.S. consumers; Farm Bureau met with President Ford to present the views of U.S. farmers, and Farm Bureau across the nation worked with news media to build a better public understanding of the real reasons behind the boycott.

Farm Bureau, he said, finally entered into a rare third-party action to bring a complaint before the National Labor Relations Board, protesting the boycott.

Another victory was Farm Bureau's leading role in convincing the U.S. Congress that the President's veto of a farm bill should be sustained.

Illinois Farm Bureau's recent sales mission to Eastern Europe was an example of farmers' ability to identify an upcoming problem—in this case, bumper crops and the need for markets—and to do something about it.

"We must maintain confidence in our judgment, in our abilities, and in our power to successfully influence events around us, if we are to avoid being overwhelmed by disappointment, frustration, and uncertainty," Steele declared.

Byron is elected to Prosecutors Council

Nicholas G. Byron, state's attorney of Madison County, has been elected to serve as one of eleven members of the Illinois Prosecutors' Advisory Council.

The newly created state agency is designed to give advice, training and other assistance to state's attorneys throughout Illinois.

The attorney general of Illinois, the Cook County state's attorney and the president of the Illinois State's Attorneys Association are automatically members of the council by virtue of their office.

All other members are elected from their appellate districts.

Byron represents the Fifth Appellate District.

Byron also was elected as third vice-president of the Illinois State's Attorneys Association at its winter conference in Chicago.

Health systems agency to have sweeping power

A new Health Systems Agency being formed will have both coordinating authority and control of federal pursestrings for virtually all types of health care in this metropolitan area, it was noted at a public meeting Wednesday afternoon at the YMCA.

A 60-member board is being created, with the membership likely to be equally divided between Missouri and Illinois, it was related.

Forty-five per cent of the members will be health providers of various types, and 55 per cent will be consumers.

Leo H. Konzen, chairman of the Regional Government Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, was moderator and a gathering of 40 officials and citizens attended.

Speakers were Alan Richter, active executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, and Dee J. J. Moore, a state member serving as a liaison with the Inter-Agency Coordinating Group that is helping to set by laws and nominate HSA board members.

Concerns voiced included assurance that Illinois will have half the members and that there will be sufficient representation for elected officials, hospitals, health care professionals and the public.

It was noted the Madison County Board is pending the Madison County Mental Health (708) Board was established by the county and funded through an act which calls for a special 10-cent per $100 assessed valuation maximum property tax levy.

Only about half of that amount is being levied at this time while programs are crumbling for a lack of finances, one picket stated.

The board did not bring up the mental health issue at the meeting, but was read another letter dealing with the county-wide departmental budget cuts this fiscal year.

The letter was from Madison County Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell, detailing problems that have caused in his department and requesting reinstatement of $12,480 trimmed from his budget.

A list of suggestions from the finance committee to professionals at the Madison County Nursing Home also was read in which several proposals were offered for study, including increasing fees, decreasing services, eliminating intensive care and bunting patients in smaller areas for more efficient service.

12 seek high court posts

One vacancy and two seats from which judges are retiring have attracted 12 candidates for nomination to the Illinois Supreme Court, according to the state Board of Elections.

Justice Thomas E. Kluczynski and Justice Walter V. Schafer must retire due to age after the November 1976 election. The vacancy on the bench was created when Justice Charles H. Davis of Rockford resigned in September for personal reasons.

Bidding for the Democratic nomination for Kluczynski's seat are former state Attorney General William G. Clark of Chicago and state Appellate Judge Henry W. Dieringer of Barrington.

The Democratic primary winner March 16 will meet Lawrence X. Pusateri of River Forest, the only Republican candidate for that seat.

Three Democrats have entered the race for Justice Schafer's seat—Clark, Chief Circuit Court Judge Joseph Power of Chicago and James A. Dooley of Chicago. Reginald J. Holzer of Lincolnwood is their Republican counterpart and is unopposed.

The heaviest competition is for the vacant seat as four Democrats and two Republicans have filed.

The Democrats are John T. Perry of Glen Ellyn, Stanley J. Roszkowski of Rockford, David R. Babb of Belvidere and Francis X. Mahoney of Freeport.

The Republicans are State Sen. Harris Fawell of Naperville and Thomas J. Moran of Waukegan.

The Granite City Park Board last night approved a 20 cent an hour pay increase, effective immediately, for all hourly employees, including maintenance workers such as carpenters and mechanics.

The pay raise also affects workers at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Ames and Franklin Avenues, and at Lincoln Place Community Center.

Approval was given with a stipulation that the hourly wages will be reviewed again at the end of the 1975-76 fiscal year on April 30.

It also was noted by the board that the surface deck area at the Wilson Park swimming pool is in need of repairs, and may possibly require removal of the entire area for replacement.

Frank Rea, park district secretary, said that expenses in operating the pool were more than the revenue received from the estimated 19,000 persons who utilized the pool this year.

Nothing wrong in hiring campaign director with state contracts—Howlett

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has responded to charges of improprieties in his office awarding consulting contracts to a firm headed by one of four directors of the People for Howlett campaign committee.

Howlett commented there is no "legal or moral reason why anyone who has transacted business with the state of Illinois should be free to support the political candidate of his choice."

He has disclosed that Howlett's office has entered into five consulting contracts in the last two years with the Illinois Planning Group, Ltd.,

Elmhurst, which is headed by Edward J. McKiernan, president, who also is a director of Howlett's campaign and fund-raising committee.

The consulting contracts totaled $203,400 of which more than $156,000 already has been paid. The remainder is due when the firm completes its present study on the feasibility of placing a person's photograph on his driver's license.

The Illinois Planning Group, Ltd., recently conducted a study which, Howlett said, will lead to legislation proposing a multi-year auto license plate program which could save the state $21 million over the next five years.

Benefit skate-a-thon scheduled for Sunday

Two participating teams of the Granite City Amateur Ice Hockey Association will conduct a fund-raising skate-a-thon at the Wilson Park ice rink Sunday from 3:45 to 4:45 p.m.

They will attempt to raise funds to help defray expenses for transportation to and participation in the Space City Holiday Tournament at Houston, Tex. Donations will be received at the door of the rink.

Each member of the two teams participating in the skate-a-thon is sponsored by persons from throughout the Quad-City area, and will receive donations at a pre-set amount for each lap he skates around the ice rink within the one-hour period.

Donations received by individual members will be used to help defray the individual expenses on the planned trip, and contributions at the door will be used for the entire team.

The ice hockey teams chosen to represent the local association in the tournament at Texas, which begins Saturday, Dec. 27, are the Knowles Ford Pee Wee Team, ages 11-12 with a 12-1 record, and a Bantam team, P and S Amusement, ages 13-14 with a 10-2-1 record.

While in Houston, players will also visit the Astroline, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and other places of interest.

More than 500 homes on the northern edge of Granite City and in the Pontoon Beach area lost electrical power when a Madison County Sheriff's Department car was struck by another car and then a utility pole at East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road at 3 a.m. today, downing a 34,000 volt power line.

Deputy Raymond J. Rogers, 30, of Granite City, was taken from the accident scene to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for cuts inside his upper lip and mouth requiring six sutures, and abrasions to his right knee. X-rays were taken and he was released.

Police reported the auto of James D. Bailey, East Alton, entered the intersection on a green light as the sheriff's car, with the red light and siren blaring, was ready to make the intersection.

Bailey's auto allegedly struck from the right rear of the squad car, causing it to go out of control, sliding about 150 feet, striking the utility pole and then going into a deep culvert.

A large section of fence around the drainage culvert also was damaged.

Police at the scene were hampered by the live electrical line near the fallen fence, and had difficulty getting Deputy Rogers safely from his vehicle.

An official for Illinois Power Co. said the fallen wire stopped service to the Maryland and Parkway substations.

The Maryland substation, which serves much of the northern edge of the city, including Miracle Manor, was without power about 30 minutes until a circuit could be rerouted.

The Parkway substation, which serves Gaslight Walk, the Pontoon Beach, was harder to reroute power to and customers there were without power for about one hour.

Homemakers Class entertains group

A special collection for the Little Moon Christmas offering was taken at the Christmas party of the Christian Homemakers Class at Calvary Baptist Church during the weekend.

After dinner, Ellis Herring led the group in singing carols. Those attending were the Rev. Al Slayter, Don and Kim Slayter, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dugan, Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Hall and Joey, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Knight, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moser and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burnett, Mrs. Ellis Herring, Mr. and Mrs. Newman Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Trovich and Lon, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Carver, Lloyd Belcher, Thelma Dutton and Maurine Lewallen.

Collins family hosts Brownies

A Christmas party was held for St. Elizabeth School's Brownie Troop 438 on Tuesday at the Collins home, 2530 Buenger Blvd.

The Brownies viewed a one-act puppet show entitled "Santa's Elves on Strike," performed by Anita Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Turner, a member of Mosque and Gavel Society at Granite City High School North.

A deft puppeteer, she used two hand puppets and made a personal appearance during the playlet.

Santa visited with the Brownies and joined them in games and carols. The girls, participated in a gift exchange and received Brownie mementos from Santa.

Refreshments were served by the leaders, Mrs. Carmen Schwartz, Mrs. Pat Buenger and Mrs. Barbara Collins. Christmas table appointments and a miniature Santa's village completed the festive decor.

Renewal forms needed for new licenses

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett this week reminded all applicants to present their pre-print renewal forms when they purchase 1976 license plates.

"This form, which was mailed last summer, proves ownership and will speed up over-the-counter license sales," Howlett said. "Without this, the applicant must request a duplicate from our Springfield office before a license may be issued."

Howlett pointed out that mailing of 1976 license plates is far ahead of last year at this time.

"Almost all of the reassignment requests have been mailed and thousands of the 285,000 special passenger number requests are being processed daily," he explained. "All of these, in addition to motorcycle and RV reassignments, will be mailed before Christmas."

Temperature hits low of 7

Temperatures in the Quad-City area hit the lowest mark of the winter season early today—a reading of seven degrees above zero at 6:40 a.m. The wind-chill factor dropped at one point to 15 below zero.

The U.S. Weather Service reported there will be more cold weather tonight with a low of 10 to 15 degrees, but a warming trend will set in during the weekend.

Low temperatures are expected to be in the 20s by Saturday, with highs rising to the mid-30s to mid-40s on Sunday.

Abundant holiday season telecasts

KETC-TV, Channel 9 has expanded its schedule during Christmas week and will broadcast a complete afternoon of holiday viewing from Dec. 24 to Jan. 2.

Channel 9 does not normally broadcast during the day when school is not in session. However, due to repeated requests from parents for suitable programs for young people during school holidays, KETC-TV will broadcast beginning a noon Christmas Eve.

Children will be able to watch Big Bird, Susan, The Muppets, and the rest of the "Sesame Street" characters from noon to 1 p.m. each weekday.

Beginning at 1 p.m. Christmas Eve, the Christmas Special in the "God of Our Fathers" series airs. Entitled "Christmas in Early America," it explores the forms of seasonal celebration in the eighteenth century.

The program is aimed at creating a perspective in which viewers can place modern American experience. The Bicentennial series as a whole has provoked glowing responses from viewers.

On Christmas Day, the magical ballet "Nutcracker Suite" will follow "Sesame Street." Complete with children, dolls, toy soldiers and the Sugar plum Fairy, the special is performed by Ballet West of Salt Lake City and the Utah Symphony Orchestra.

"Letter People: This Is Your Story" will air at 1 p.m. Friday, Dec. 26 and will be repeated at 2:30 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 2. Using a "This Is Your Life" format, puppet characters are introduced. Excerpts from their adventures are shown and the overall purpose of the series as a beginning reading method is explained.

Following the Friday Letter People will be "The Turbulent Ocean," a documentary which examines the fascinating underwater world of deep-sea eddies. Scientists believe that an understanding of the general circulation of the ocean is an essential step toward the management of man's planetary environment.

"The Turbulent Ocean" shows the complex systems by which the cyclones, raging through the seas of the world, can be surveyed.

Other programs of interest to young viewers will air between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m., Dec. 24-Jan. 2.

They are: Wednesday, Dec. 24, 2 p.m., "The Coming of A Stranger"; 2:30 p.m., "A Bicentennial Christmas"; Thursday, Dec. 25, 2:30 p.m., "G.E.D."; Friday, Dec. 26, 2:30 p.m., "Take One"; Monday, Dec. 29, 1 p.m., "Hall of Fame Review"; 1:15 p.m., "Self-Incorporated"; 1:30 p.m., "About Bread and Butterflies"; 1:45 p.m., "People Television"; 2:00 p.m., "Lex Singularis"; 2:30 p.m., "The Electric Company Documentary"; Tuesday, Dec. 30, 1 p.m., "The Electric Company Documentary"; 1:30 p.m., "Tell Me What You See"; 1:45 p.m., "Animals and Such"; 2 p.m., "Take One"; 2:30 p.m., "Elementary TV Sampler"; Wednesday, Dec. 31, 1 p.m., "Inside Out"; 1:15 p.m., "Teachers' Concerns About Inside Out"; 1:30 p.m., "This is Your Story"; 2 p.m., "Images and Things"; 2:30 p.m., "Secondary TV Sampler"; Thursday, Jan. 1, 1 p.m., "Boleyn"; 1:30 p.m., "American Heritage"; 2:00 p.m., "Artists in America"; 2:30 p.m., "G.E.D."; Friday, Jan. 2, 1 p.m., "Take One"; 1:30 p.m., "Mexican Heritage"; 2:30 p.m., "Letter People Overview".

Evaluators at Venice Lincoln Tech Center

Preliminary evaluation reports of the Adult Education program at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center were presented to district administrators Friday.

The on-site visitation was completed as part of a statewide assessment project by Northern Illinois University under contract with the Illinois Office of Education to determine the effectiveness of programs available for adults in Illinois, and how they can be strengthened and expanded across the state.

After two days with students, staff, administrators, and some 25 people in related agencies in this area, the team members compiled the results and made the presentation at a luncheon meeting at the Stockyale Inn.

The availability of a growing variety of outstanding vocational programs coordinated with Adult Basic Education for adult residents of the area at no cost to the student (or to any local school district), was identified as a major strength of the VLTC operation.

Also identified as significant strengths were: the pleasant and comfortable building, and learning climate; very sound educational techniques and materials; a highly competent and experienced staff; free transportation; involvement of the program in creative new ways to assist adults in overcoming educational defects.

The Venice School Board, and former Supt. John Pier were commended for their foresight in 1968, in establishing the adult facility which "has grown dynamically in serving the educational needs of hundreds of adults in the Tri-Cities and the surrounding area," the report said.

The major weakness reflected in the report was a lack of counseling and job placement services for students at the center. The lack of a formal Advisory Committee for the program was also cited, as a defect needing attention to keep the curriculum relevant.

Miss Norcen Lopez of the NIU Adult Education faculty was team leader for the review and was accompanied by Mrs. Alfernia Hampton, East St. Louis adult education administrator, and Dr. Clive Veri, dean of Adult and Continuing Education at NIU.

"The results of the in-depth review by professionals of this stature gives us much-needed external input to help guide us in the further-refining of our curriculum, methodology, and materials to maintain a top quality and individually tailored educational program for adults in the area who haven't completed high school," said K. Duane Rankin, director at VLTC.

Anyone interested in further information may visit or call the director, at 877-7792.

Others participating in the evaluation included: Robert Vickers, superintendent of schools for Venice; William Fechte, board of education member at Venice; Fred Wakeland, representing the Educational Service Region; Russell Wilson, of the Illinois Office of Education; Mrs. Valerie Meyer and Jim Russell, instructors at the local center.

SIUE Dance Instructor Finds Enjoyment in Her Occupation

By Sherri Tolar

Moving to music and helping others develop discipline, self-reliance and confidence, brought about through all forms of dance, is an enjoyable occupation for Gayle Kassing, dance instructor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE).

According to Miss Kassing, dance is a theatrical art and not just a skill, such as sports. Dance relates to many concentrations, including film, mass communications, video tape and music.

"Dance," she emphasized, "is growing in popularity. According to a recent survey, many more young people are enrolling in university dance classes all across the United States. In many cases, dance concerts have drawn more crowds than rock concerts."

She has found that people don't always take dance for the performing aspect, but for the enjoyment of moving.

Miss Kassing, who is beginning her fifth year as an instructor at SIUE, said that during her training as a dance major at Texas Christian University, she was offered a broad spectrum of experience, "not just in dance but in theatre as well." She said she tries to implement both into her own method of teaching.

She stressed how important it is for beginning students to look at what the teacher is doing with her body. "Ballet students," she pointed out, "should especially watch the arms and legs."

Miss Kassing doesn't believe in being both teacher and stage performer at the same time. "It is very difficult to be both (performer and teacher) at the same time; in fact, I think it is virtually impossible. A teacher must analyze and diagnose what a student needs to do in order to perform a certain style or movement. A performer must go inside and analyze his or her own style and movements," Miss Kassing stated.

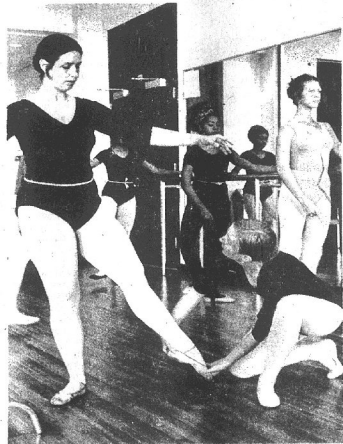

In listing the SIUE-sponsored dance programs for the academic year, Miss Kassing said there will be The 11th Annual Contemporary Dance Festival, for which other universities from the Mid-West will each be invited to perform a segment of the program; an SIUE children's repertory theatre which will tour elementary schools throughout Madison and St. Clair counties as well as perform on the SIUE stage; an SIUE theatre production of the musical "Anything Goes"; and the final program, "Dance in Concert."

In conclusion, Miss Kassing said: "As long as I am in a dancing age, I will continue to dance." She said her favorite quote is a statement by Maurice Bejart, "The 18th century belonged to music, the 19th century belonged to drama, but the 20th century belongs to the dance."

WITH OPEN ARMS—Gayle Kassing, dance instructor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, demonstrates the proper use of the body when performing ballet.

HELPING HANDS—Gayle Kassing, dance instructor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, takes time to help her students learn and develop the proper body movements used in ballet.

Hall, Stevens elected by S. Illinois Builders

Howard H. Hall, H. H. Hall Construction Co., East St. Louis, was re-elected president of the Southern Illinois Builders Association (SIBA) for 1976 at the SIBA annual business meeting in Belleville last week.

Other SIBA officers for 1976 elected at the meeting are: Ralph Korte, Ralph Korte Construction Co., Highland, first vice-president; Byron Farrell, G. Helmkamp Excavating and Trucking Co., Wood River, second vice-president; and J. J. Altman, J. J. Altman and Co., East St. Louis, secretary-treasurer.

Fifty new SIBA directors were elected.

Elected to one-year terms were Wilkie Ridgway, Ridgway Construction Co., Herrin, and Don Schubert, Don Schubert Enterprises, Inc., Mt. Vernon. Elected to three-year board terms were Vincent Kosarek, Kosarek Construction Co., New Athens; Tom Morgan, Robert L. Morgan Builder, Inc., Murphysboro, and Guy Stevens, S. M. Wilson & Co., Granite City.

The new officers and directors take office Jan. 1, 1976. SIBA, representing the Associated General Contractors of America in 37 counties of Southern Illinois, has more than 300 member firms. Its headquarters in Belleville and branch office in Marion provide services to the association's members, who account for more than 80 per cent of the construction dollar volume in the SIBA service area.

TAKING A MOMENT TO REFLECT—Connie Brazelton, a senior at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, inspects both her style and movement as she performs basic class exercises in ballet. The theatre acting and dance major is from Waukegan.

Differ over pact to refund meeting pay

Don C. Rea, a Pontoon Beach Village Board trustee, responded Monday to a verbal allegation by Village Board President Floyd David Moss that Rea had failed to keep his campaign promise of donating his per diem pay for village meetings to a fund for a village park.

Rea asserted, "When Moss gives his money to a village-owned park, I will be right there beside him giving mine."

"He has donated his money to a Lions Club park and his motivation was political," Rea said.

The trustee said Moss was running for Democratic committee man in Nameoki Precinct One when he was searching for a park site, and that Moss convinced Lions members to place it along Route 111 in Lakeview Estates, in Precinct One and near his home.

"There were more centrally located sites available. Therefore, I won't support it," Rea commented.

Rea said Moss is searching for points to criticize him, since Rea has begun publicly opposing Mayor Moss's hiring practices in the village. "If that's the worst thing he can find to say about me, then I can't be too bad," Rea asserted Monday.

Moss had charged that village trustees elected on his ticket during the April 1974 village election pledged to donate all their per diem checks to a fund for a village park and that Rea was among those who had failed to keep such a promise.

Moss said the campaign promise initially involved meeting pay of $80, an amount increased to $40 in March 1975. The village board meets two or more times each month. The proposal for contributing board meeting pay was verbal and not legally binding. The trustees agreed to, in effect, serve without compensation due to the village's needs and monetary problems, Moss recalled.

Rea regards the terms of the informal arrangement as having been violated by the way in which the park location was selected, and the fact that it is not owned by the village.

Yule program at Gospel Mission
 The Christmas theme, "Joy to the World the Lord is Come," will herald the arrival of the yuletide season at The Gospel Mission, 2014 E. 26th St., at 9 a.m. Sunday.
 Singing of the widely known Christmas carol will open the Sunday school program at 9 a.m. and caroling will continue throughout the day.
 At 7 o'clock Sunday evening, a special Christmas program will be presented by different age levels enrolled in church school classes at the Mission. Each class will have a part in the presentation, Mrs. Bethel J. Davis, Mission superintendent, said.
 A holiday treat will be given to all those attending. The public is invited and ample parking is available at the rear of the Mission building, the superintendent said.
 The Gospel Mission, now in its 57th year, is non-denominational, Mrs. Davis pointed out.

Star recorders are honored

New members were welcomed at a joint meeting and Christmas party of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, held last week with Miss Ruth Stover, senior regent, presiding.
 Mrs. Mary Driscoll, chairman of the social service committee, introduced new members, Lillie Nann, Christine Lopez, Martha Castellini, Marcela Bruce and Mary Hommert.
 The senior regent announced the star recorder title is one of the most difficult degrees to earn and presented those who have achieved the honor with special gifts.
 Those honored were Marion Lipscomb, Ella McKittick, Mildred Votupol and Helen Oberlin. Star recorders unable to attend were Margaret Fronabarger and Emma Laird. A luncheon was served after the meeting to 53 members. Decorations in the hall and table appointments were in keeping with the yuletide season.
 Prizes were awarded to Mary Andria, Lois Wall and Pat Allison in the evening games. Preceding the business session, entertainment was provided by the Salem School of Dance directed by Mrs. Marge Salem.
 Students performed modern and classical ballet, acrobatics and concluded with a revival of the 1950's rock and roll.
 Those participating in the presentation were Linda Foster, Marilyn Szczepanik, Karen Myracle, Bonnie Liebert, Lin Salem, Suzanne and Jackie Gray, Capri Gaudette, Gwynne Johnson, Cheryl Hutchings, Deanna Orris, Jennifer Capa, Becky Kozak, Debbie Strain, Gail Plantz, Mary George, and Sue Huebner.

Mrs. Ruppel hosts garden club meet

Mrs. Thelma Ruppel, 2545 State St., was hostess to the Terrace Garden Club at its Christmas party last week in her home.
 A noon luncheon was served by the hostess followed by an exchange of gifts. Games were played and white elephant prizes awarded.
 Members voted to send a $25 donation to the Madison County Nature Trail project.
 Those attending included Mesdames June Cucha, Edie Donjoian, Myrtle Hickman, Tomera Kirchhoff, Ann Kozack and Olga Tarpoff. Mrs. Tarpoff will host the Jan. 14 meeting.

2nd educational channel sought

"Two television stations can live in the same house almost as cheaply as one," Dr. John C. Schwarzwald, executive vice-president and general manager of KTCV-TV, Channel 17, Minneapolis, Minn., told members of the KETC-TV Viewer's Advisory Committee at their December meeting.

Schwarzwald was in St. Louis to discuss the feasibility of the proposed activation of Channel 40 as a companion non-commercial outlet to KETC-TV, Channel 9.

Dr. Schwarzwald, who put the first non-commercial, educational television station (KUIT-TV, Channel 8, Houston, Tex.) on the air in the United States in 1955, was paying his first visit to the St. Louis public TV station's facilities, since the early 1960's.

"We had a bad year in Minneapolis last year and could not fund all of our depreciation, so like any good manager I began looking for ways to cut our expenses—and, I decided that we probably would save only about $30,000 out of a $2 million budget by closing down Channel 17. I looked elsewhere... for another organization to pick up and operate Channel 17, the community would have to raise from $175,000 to $300,000 for just a modest operation," he added.

"So many of our costs are fixed. For instance, we pay only one set of dues to the Public Broadcasting Service for programming for both channels, since licensing is not by channel but by licensee. We also get our power for Channel 17 at a much lower rate since it's on top of the base use fee set by Channel 2, and the more power you use the cheaper it gets. In addition, the joint use of certain basic capital items reduces capital costs by 50 per cent right off the top," the veteran broadcaster said.

Dr. Schwarzwald cited other advantages of two-channel operation, such as that proposed by KETC-TV on Channels 9 and 40.

"It is possible to serve minorities of all types—including minorities of geography and interest—with a second UHF channel. More local programming can be originated efficiently and economically on a second channel, and live coverage of events need not conflict with telecasts in which viewers have invested."

Dr. Schwarzwald, who has been called "the father of educational television," pointed out that the combined non-commercial television operations such as the one proposed for Channels 9 and 40 here, already exist in eight major metropolitan areas in the U.S.

Two channel capacity doubles scheduling flexibility and the extent of community access. He pointed to some programming in which minority cultures in the Minneapolis area use Channel 17 to demonstrate native dances and music. The second channel has also opened up more opportunity for local public affairs programming.

In St. Louis, officials of the St.

Louis Educational Television Commission, licensee of Channel 9 and proposed licensee for Channel 40, have announced plans to concentrate local public affairs programming on the new Channel with Channel 9 being reserved for programming of a more state-wide and/or regional nature.

KETC-TV built a new Broadcast Center in South St. Louis County in 1971 which was planned for eventual activation of Channel 40. As a result, activation of the channel by the present non-commercial licensee would result in savings in building and tower and control room construction. The same studio serving Channel 9 also would be used to serve Channel 40.

The Viewers' Advisory Committee brainstormed on ideas for possible Channel 40 programming which can serve new audiences not now being served by Channel 9, and the members also made many suggestions for higher impact viewer response programming to meet specific community needs.

KETC-TV's Viewers' Advisory Committee, organized in 1966, is made up of representatives of various organizations in the coverage area served by Channel 9 in St. Louis. Persons interested in becoming a member may contact Mrs. Barbara Whitner at 6996 Millbrook Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., 63130.

142 at Jolly 60's Christmas party

The Jolly 60's Club held its annual Christmas dinner party last week at Grace Baptist Church, featuring a program by the Venice School Choral Ensemble under the direction of Miss Alice Purdes. Director Bill Turner opened the program by welcoming Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, a guest, and 42 members and other visitors. Robert Patton, church music director, led a sing-a-long after dinner.

Decorated cookbooks were presented and Santa Claus distributed treat bags filled with oranges, apples and candy canes.

Contributions for the program were donated by Charlie's Restaurant, Conko's Market and Holsinger Real Estate, the Rev. William Duvall, pastor, announced.

The Rev. Duvall noted the Jolly 60's meet at 10 a.m., each Wednesday in the church fellowship hall, 2600 Edwards St., with a potluck luncheon and Bible study hour.

The program is open to everyone and transportation to the meetings may be arranged by calling the church, at 877-8672, or Bill Turner, at 931-1628, the minister said.

Drivers' course for seniors

A "Rules of the Road" refresher course is being offered for senior citizens who need to take a driver's license renewal examination at the Senior Citizens Center, 1918 Edison Ave., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 6, 7 and 8 at 7 p.m., it was announced by Edgar Paddock, president of the Senior Citizens Council.

Paddock said a comprehensive review of driving rules and an unofficial visual test are offered so individuals will know if corrective measures are needed before taking a driving test.

Those planning to take the course are requested to register at the center or call 877-4373. A crime blocker meeting also is scheduled at the center from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, Dec. 19, to be presented by Officer Friendly Glen Wright of the Granite City Police Department.

Amvets Auxiliary plans Christmas aid programs

Mrs. Jackie Petras, president of Amvets Auxiliary, Post 51, conducted a meeting last week in which plans were completed by the members to provide gifts to various groups and area families.

Christmas cookies will be sent to a serviceman and gifts are to be taken to the residents of Madison County Nursing Home. Christmas treats and a cash donation will go to St. John's orphan's home in Belleville, it was reported.

Members also agreed to send clothing and canned goods to area families for Christmas. They said $40 worth of clothing was taken to a family in need at Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Petras announced she had delivered 150 copies of a booklet on "Your American Heritage" to local school children and Brownie Troops.

Plans were finalized for the Auxiliary Christmas party to be held Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the post home. A review of the Pearl Harbor Day ceremony in St. Louis was given by Mrs. Petras.

Mrs. Laura Garner was accepted as the club's first honorary auxiliary member during the session and special prize for the evening was won by the president.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Lorena Varner and prayer offered by Trudy McGowan.

Hestess Mrs. McGowan and Glenda Brockman served refreshments after the meeting.

Mexican Commission to mark 50th year

Plans for the 50th year celebration of the Mexican Honorary Commission highlighted a monthly meeting of the club, conducted last week by President Richard Robles.

Robles named Mrs. Mary Bridick, Otilio Valencia, Earl Warnhoff and Mrs. Ruby Ybarra to serve as co-chairmen of the event, which will be observed in 1976.

Donald Valencia, chairman of the Christmas basket project, said the club will provide between 10 and 15 baskets of food for needy families.

Members voted to donate money to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights and to St. Joseph Church for a Spanish language mass at Christmas to Our Lady of Guadalupe.

Abel Valencia reported plans for a New Year's Eve dance and said tickets are available at the club. March 6 was set as a tentative date for the Joe Gonzalez Scholarship Fund dance.

The date selected for the May Fiesta at the Croatian Home, Madison, was May 14. New members introduced were Mrs. Alma Sedabres and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Becenna.

Robles announced four trustees will be elected at the Jan. 4 meeting. Miss Lisa Garcia said the annual Christmas party for children would include a visit by Santa and other special events.

Brownies sing at Anchorage

Brownie Troop 264 of Lake School sang Christmas carols at the Anchorage Recreation Center last week after school, and gave bags of holiday cookies to 30 residents of Anchorage who attended the party.

After a fellowship hour the troop members returned to the school for a party honoring mothers who have assisted with troop projects.

Gifts of appreciation were presented to Mesdames Faye Hester, Beverly Gibbs, Mary Keel, Shirley Strain, Frances Becker and Ann Siebert.

Also honored with gifts were Mrs. Florence Van Haften, a teacher at the school where the troop meets each week; Robert Kozielek, also a teacher at Lake, who assisted the troop in planting a tree at the school, and Mrs. Denise Schmitz, Neighborhood leader committee member who has aided the troop.

Cookies and punch were served to these named and to Mrs. Betty Goforth and Mrs. Mary Sherfy, co-leaders and Brownies. Lisa Andrews, Leannette Cheung, Dena Doolin, Jeannette Gibbs, Beverly Goforth, Rhonda Goforth, Amy Hester, Joetta Horvath, Gwynne Johnson, Tamara Jones, Sara Keel, Darla Lewis, Diana Lewis, Vicki Sherfy, Amy Siebert, Debbie Strain, Laura Withers, Gina Deckard, Mary Jo Gorsich and Cindy Jeffries.

The girls have invited their parents to attend the meeting tonight for a party and gift exchange.

'Circuit Breaker' changes will speed distributions

Some changes this year in the state law that provides tax relief to senior and disabled Illinois residents will make new benefits available to persons who file for property tax relief in 1976, according to Illinois Revenue Director Robert H. Alphin.

The law is the "Senior Citizens and Disabled Persons Property Tax Relief Act," commonly called the Circuit Breaker Law.

One of the changes to it will allow homeowners to use 1974 property tax bills to file for relief of 1975 property taxes. Alphin said that will permit homeowners to file anytime after Jan. 1 for property tax relief and mean they will receive grants up to eight months earlier than in previous years.

"Elderly and disabled persons have been required to have their final property tax bill before filing for tax relief," Alphin said, "but there was still the problem of raising the money to pay the bill. This change in the law will ease that by making the money available before the property tax payment is due."

Under another change, senior and disabled residents who rent residences subject to the property tax will be able to claim that 30 per cent of their rent was for the payment of property taxes. That's an increase of five per cent over the amount allowed this year, and according to the director, will mean an increase in the amount of grants to renters in 1976.

The director said the revenue department now is mailing tax relief claim forms to any senior or disabled resident who has applied in any previous year for a grant.

The form, IL-1363, also serves as the application for grants under the "Additional Tax Relief" program. Those grants provide between $50 and $100 annually for relief of other taxes senior and disabled persons pay.

The additional grant is available to any Illinois resident 65 or older, or disabled whose household income in 1975 was less than $10,000.

Persons who have not applied for either program before can obtain an application by calling the revenue department between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays. The number is 800-252-8972, a toll-free number.

Forms also will be available from any revenue district office or an agency office of the Department on Aging.

Education office grants employees right to campaign

Recognizing that "employees of the Illinois Office of Education have the constitutional right to participate in political activity and to run for public office," the State Board of Education has adopted a policy covering political campaigning by IOE employees.

The Board, in so doing, also stressed the nonpartisan nature of its responsibilities and duties as a state board of education. The policy reads:

"Employees of the Illinois Office of Education have the constitutional right to participate in political activity and to run for public office. However, a candidate is encouraged to take a leave of absence without pay during the campaign period."

"A leave of absence of one month prior to the primary and one month prior to the general election is suggested for employees campaigning for statewide office, the General Assembly, or Congress.

"Because election to some offices may constitute an incompatibility, prior to filing for office, it is suggested that the employee check with the personnel section and the legal department to determine if such incompatibility will occur."

"The personnel section as well as the superintendent should be notified of an employee's candidacy 10 days prior to the announcement of candidacy."

"No individual will be permitted to campaign for public office or solicit support for a candidate during agency work hours or on agency property. The use of materials, equipment, space, or staff time of this agency is prohibited in the conduct of political campaign and such use will be considered grounds for dismissal."

"No employee who is a candidate for public office may profess or imply that he or she represents the agency's views or has the agency's endorsement with respect to such candidacy. A candidate's employment with the Illinois Office of Education does not represent endorsement by the State Board of Education or the state superintendent of education."

To survey services to disabled

The Illinois State Advisory Planning Council on Developmental Disabilities through the local Regional Planning Committee will conduct a survey of all agencies providing medical, psychological, educational, residential and transportation services to the developmentally disabled in Region IV, comprising the seven counties of Bond, Clinton, Washington, Randolph, Monroe, St. Clair and Madison.

The term "developmental disability" means a disability of a person attributable to mental retardation, cerebral palsy, epilepsy or autism, or any of its origins before the individual attains 18 and has continued or can be expected to continue indefinitely and constitute a substantial handicap to the individual," W. B. Fisher, acting chairman of the council, said.

The purpose of the survey is to help determine what services are being provided for the developmentally disabled citizen and hopefully locate the gaps in service and make Medicine have been tapped by the SIU Board of Trustees. University officers were authorized to accept the bidding the project, subject to concurrence by the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

The project is being funded by a $180,000 NIH "Start-Up" grant, the fourth and final NIH grant to the School of Dental Medicine, according to Dean Stanley Hazen.

The improvements will convert areas on the first and second floors of the building to administrative offices. Offices to be centralized in the renovated building include the office of the dean, office of student affairs, campus general office and registrar.

Currently, the administrative offices are scattered in various buildings on the 26-acre Alton campus.

Renovations in the basement level of the building were started this year. The improvements were funded by the Capital Development Board in the amount of $100,000 and involved the heating, air-conditioning, plumbing and electrical systems.

The renovation plans approved were prepared by Thompson Associates, Troy. The firm has been engaged in all previous NIH projects at the Alton campus.

Law on charitable solicitation urged

By WILLIAM J. SCOTT
 Illinois Attorney General

Illinois needs a strong amendment to its Charitable Solicitations Act... an amendment that will assure that more than the current norm of 15 per cent of each dollar you contribute in a professional fund raising appeal will go to charity — an amendment that would push back the clock twelve years, to the way the law originally was worded.

It isn't too often that an older law is a better law. But in my opinion, that is the case with Section 5109 (c) of the Charitable Solicitations Act.

When that law was written in 1963, it called for 50 per cent of the gross of all monies raised in a professional appeal to go to charity. The law requires 75 per cent to go to charity — but that's 75 per cent net, after "legitimate and reasonable" expenses have been deducted.

All of which can mean that only 15 cents of your charitable dollar in a professional appeal actually goes to charity.

Let's look at what happened. In 1969, a legislator decided to cut the gross to 75 per cent net, little to go to charity. On first impressions, one would tend to agree.

So he introduced a bill to change the gross monies going to charity in a professional appeal to 75 per cent.

Realizing, however, that perhaps in reality this figure was not feasible, the legislature passed a bill to change the gross to 75 per cent net, but that's 75 per cent of the monies which would be computed after "legitimate and reasonable" expenses had been deducted.

In other words, it now was 75 per cent net, not 75 per cent gross. And that made much more difficult for the attorney general to litigate cases.

Since that amendment became law in 1969, in each and every case this office has taken to court against a professional fund-raiser we have had to argue what were "legitimate and reasonable" expenses and what were not. There were no precedents to follow. It is a tedious, time-consuming job.

But, by now, the attorney general's office has developed a litigation history. We're winning numbers of cases against professional fund raisers who take too big a bite out of your charitable dollar for so-called "legitimate and reasonable" expenses.

And what are the results of this successful litigation history?

1. National organizations of professional fund raisers are asking this office to discuss with them how they can begin to regulate themselves — a move that is vital. There are honest professional fund raisers who are not out to bilk the public.

2. Through a 1973 Price Waterhouse study of 1800 charitable organizations registered in Illinois, and through our own investigation and litigation experience, we have determined that a maximum 50 per cent of gross for overhead and professional fund-raising expenses is, in a majority of cases, a fact of life, leaving 50 per cent gross for charity; exactly what the original 1963 law provided.

This 50-50 conclusion is further supported by a bill now in the U.S. Senate (S1535) which states that all charities raising funds for tax exempt purposes must not use more than 50 per cent for overhead and fund raising costs, or they will lose their tax exempt status.

Flagrant violators, says the bill, should be subject to criminal charges.

3. We are, through litigation and agreement, forcing professional fund raisers to disclose to the public — both in appeal letters and on any tickets for fund raising events — the actual percentage of the charitable dollar that will go to charity.

A good example of this is the case of People v. Cliff Vargas & b-a Circus Vargas. Lots of you probably remember appeals to attend Circus Vargas for charitable purposes.

The aura was that your dollars would go to charity and you could see a circus at the same time. But only 10 per cent of your Circus Vargas charity dollar actually went to charity.

So, we went to court and obtained a "disclosure" order. And from now on, any time professional fund raisers raise dollars for an organization in Illinois, the appeal letter and-or ticket must state clearly:

"Disclosure: Past experience has shown that approximately 19 per cent of the ticket price will go to the sponsoring organization and that 81 per cent is utilized to promote, produce and present the name of fund raising event (for example, Circus Vargas)."

All this may seem confusing. Let me tell you, it can be. That's why I began my "Consumer Forum" series by stating that Illinois needs a strong amendment to its Charitable Solicitations Act.

Why not introduce one? We did in the spring session of the legislature — one that, basically, would have returned the law to its original maximum 50-50 gross split.

It passed the House, but it died in the Senate Judiciary Committee. We'll try again this year — and maybe add criminal penalty. And we'll keep on trying.

In the meantime, we will continue with our strong litigation program, protecting your charitable dollars and your right to know how your contribution is being utilized.

It would be ideal if all our charitable dollars could go directly to charity. This happens some rare times, and we applaud it. But we also must be realistic. We must work to merge idealism with realism. Sadly, in most cases, it does cost money — legitimate and reasonable expenses — to raise money. But let's put a clearly defined limit on those expenses. I want your charitable dollars and mine to work — for those for whom they were intended, not for a slick promoter.

We're winning the battle. Please, don't stop giving. But help us, and help those who desperately need your charitable dollars, by supporting strong charitable solicitations legislation.

Word of caution: Not all charitable appeals are managed by professional fund raisers, and not all professional fund raisers are unscrupulous. The purpose of these recent "Consumer Forum's" on charitable laws has been to inform you, the contributing public, of the realistic expectations to place on the reach of your charitable monies, of the danger signs in charitable appeals, and of the fact that the harder the Attorney General works and the more careful you are to whom you contribute, the more people can be helped in the long run.

At this holiday time, your charitable monies and mine can bring joy to others less fortunate than we. Let's work to make sure that as much of that money as is feasibly possible reaches the people for whom it was intended.

Washington theater 65 years young; now a GC institution

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

After 65 years, the Washington theater, 1335 Nineteenth St., has become a Granite City landmark and an area institution.

The show spot of Granite City was started by Louis Landau Jr. on July 3, 1910, and opened on Dec. 21, 1910, under the control of the Lillian Amusement Co., an Illinois Corporation, with Landau as the first manager.

According to Charles Van Bibber, the current theater manager, the anniversary week beginning Saturday through Sunday, Dec. 20, will be filled with special anniversary celebrations.

Saturday there will be two free matinees, with tickets available from local downtown merchants, featuring the movie "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown."

Popcorn will be given free Sunday to everyone attending the 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. regular matinee.

"We're going to have a lot of things going on all week and will be giving many free passes each night. On Sunday Dec. 28 we are going to have a giant birthday cake and everyone coming to the show will be able to have some," Van Bibber said.

At the time the theater first opened 65 years ago, it seated 750 persons. Several years later, a balcony was added, raising the seating capacity to 1200.

On Feb. 12, 1923, at Lincoln, Ill., Landau closed a contract with R. Levine and Co. of Chicago to build a new theater. Construction was started on May 17, 1923, and the new theater opened on Dec. 21, 1923; just 13 years after the business venture began.

The new theater seated 1,780, had a lobby 18 feet wide, 150 feet deep and 21 feet high; a stage opening of 45 feet and 55 feet from wall to wall, 28 feet deep and 60 feet high, with dressing rooms under the stage and well equipped for stage and movie movies.

The theater orchestra was under the management of the late Frank Reidelberger.

CIVIC AFFAIRS. The stage of the Washington theater has been used many times for civic and charitable affairs during the past 65 years. This photo from the past shows the late Harry Swan, manager from 1934 to 1959, on the stage with Miss Quad-Cities of 1949, Dorothy Gibbs Antonopoulos who also was an employee of the Washington Theater.

One of the finest theaters in the state, it had a Reynolds' System of heating under the seats and a cooling system during the summer.

The theater also had many modern features of the day, including a first aid room, baby garage room for strollers, play room with a nurse in charge, and even a ladies rest room.

A Barton organ was installed in the new theater and Walter Parker was selected as the organist. The organ could be raised when being played and lowered when not in use.

The Washington Theater was partially destroyed by fire in 1946 but soon reopened with the business of entertaining people continuing as usual.

The Washington Theater was managed from 1934 when the St. Louis Amusement Co. bought the theater to 1959, by the late Harry Swan who was active in the community's civic as well as business life. Swan was active in the Boy Scouts, War Bond sales, Chamber of Commerce, Community Chest (United Way) and had 15 years of perfect attendance at the Granite City Rotary Club.

Christ Pashoff of 1230 Madison Ave., Madison, replaced Swan and managed the theater until he retired in April 1973. Pashoff worked with Swan as an assistant manager, and formerly managed the City Theater, now closed. Pashoff, like Swan, continued to be active in many civic affairs.

Today the theater physically looks much the same as in 1946. However, it has undergone extensive cleaning, repainting and decorating.

The seats have been recovered and repainted, and a new large screen has been ordered, which should be installed about the first of the year, according to the manager.

A GRANITE CITY INSTITUTION: The Washington Theater will mark 65 years of entertaining both young and old of the Quad-Cities area on Sunday, Dec. 21. Visiting the theater recently in preparation for the 65th anniversary are, from left, Christ Pashoff, who retired as manager in 1973 after being with the theater for 33 years; Charles Van Bibber, current manager; Henry C. Riegel, an executive with Arthur Enterprises; and James H. Arthur, president of St. Louis Amusement Co., owners and operators of the theater. (Press-Record Photo)

DID YOU GO TO THE SHOW on Dec. 18, 1948? Children and adults flock to the weekend matinee which was held 27 years ago today. Keeping children in mind, the local theater frequently runs special matinees in the afternoon on weekends, while featuring more adult-oriented films in the evening.

A LOOK INTO THE PAST. All the movie greats from the days of the silent "flick" to the wide screen stereophonic sound have visited the Washington Theater by the magic of the silver screen. Several sketches of moviedom's "super stars" are shown in the lobby at the Washington. Looking at sketches of James Cagney and Mary Pickford are James H. Arthur, president of St. Louis Amusement Co., left and Charles Van Bibber, theater manager.

Veterans urged to convert insurance

Veterans holding National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policies are being encouraged by the Veterans' Administration to give consideration to converting the five-year level premium term insurance to a permanent-plan policy.

The NSLI program was started in 1940 to serve the insurance needs of World War II servicemen, a VA spokesman explained. More than 22 million policies were issued before the program was closed in 1951. There were 16 million policies in force with a face value in excess of $121 billion during the peak enrollment in 1944. At the end of fiscal year 1975, there were four million policies still in force with a face value of $26 billion. Of these, 2.5 million have been converted to permanent plans. The VA counselors are directing their attention to the remaining 1.5 million policyholders.

Term insurance premiums increase sharply at each renewal after age 50, often imposing a hardship on the policyholder. While premium rates for permanent plans are higher than for term policies issued at the same ages, they remain constant throughout the life of the policy.

The VA stresses that the decision to convert from term to a permanent insurance plan must be based on the veteran's present and future needs for insurance, its cost and the veteran's ability to pay for the coverage.

The VA offers a number of permanent plans of insurance, all of which offer cash and loan values while avoiding future premium increases. Included are modified life plans, ordinary life, limited payment life and endowments.

Veterans now receiving insurance dividends will continue to receive them after conversion, the amounts depending on the new insurance plan. Policyholders who purchased paid-up additions to their term insurance will be permitted to retain the paid-up additions with the new permanent plan. Complete information on insurance coverage and counseling on conversion options is available at all VA offices.

Care of fireplace accessories outlined

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser-Home Economics

This is the season when a fireplace is a delight to have. But the metal accessories that go with a fireplace usually are no delight to clean.

Most andirons and fire tools are brass or iron. To clean iron accessories, use a brush. Rub iron items occasionally with a cloth dampened with kerosene to blacken the iron and prevent rust.

You can also paint iron accessories with heat-resistant or andiron paint to give a dull or glossy finish.

Brass items will be easier to polish if first washed in hot soapsuds. After drying them, use a good brass polish to remove tarnish and spots of corrosion. For stubborn spots of corrosion, use a piece of lemon dipped in salt.

For a bright finish, polish with a flannel cloth or chamois. If a soft finish is desired, apply a thin paste of rottenstone and linoseed oil before polishing.

Lacquered brass needs only dusting and an occasional washing with mild soap and water. If the lacquer becomes damaged, it can be removed with acetone or amyl acetate.

Although you can relacquered brass, the job isn't easy. Unless you are skilled in crafts, you will be wise to have the relacquering done professionally.

Don't forget to dust the fire screen. If it becomes gummy and soiled, clean it with a brush, using kerosene or soap and water.

RANSACKED HOUSE

A screen on a rear storm door was torn and glass in the kitchen door was broken to gain entry to the home of Bob Keeney, 174 Delmar Ave., it was reported at 1:20 p.m. Monday. Keeney was just moving into the home and it could not be immediately determined what had been stolen.

LOOT CITY OFFICE

About $59 was stolen from the cash drawer during a burglary at the Granite City Street Department office, 2310 Adams St., which was discovered Monday. A key was believed taken from a desk, used to unlock the cash drawer and then returned to the desk. Entry was gained by removing a screen on the basement window and pushing the window open.

Bicentennial travel is planned by 91 million

Out of 137 million Americans taking a vacation trip in 1976, it is likely 91 million will visit a Bicentennial site or event, according to a survey commissioned by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA).

In addition to these vacation plans, at least 55 million people will make weekend trips to Bicentennial activities during the year.

The survey also indicates that Washington, D.C., will attract 27 million tourists; Williamsburg, Va., 17.6 million; Philadelphia, Pa., 17.4 million; New York City, 16.7 million; Boston, Mass., 13.3 million; and Plymouth, Mass., 5.8 million. These city survey figures are based on vacation and weekend trip statistics which included Bicentennial, and non-Bicentennial overnight or longer visits.

The survey is the second poll performed by the United States Travel Data Center under contract with the ARBA. The latest poll was conducted in October and November and was responded to by 1,545 of the original 2,043 adults from the first poll.

The information released today is preliminary. Complete survey results will be available in several weeks.

As in 1975, the South will be the most frequently visited region, with 37 per cent of all travelers intending to tour this area.

Vacation travel generally will be up 10 per cent over 1975. Almost 22 million Americans will visit a national park on their longest 1976 vacation, with another 33 million planning a weekend trip to a park.

The area commonly referred to as George Washington country will attract the largest number of Bicentennial vacationers, with 24 million. This region includes Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

Although the survey shows the largest number of Bicentennial tourists in George Washington country, it also indicates heavy Bicentennial interest in other parts of the nation.

The findings show that 17 million will travel to the South for Bicentennial events, 14 million to the Great Lakes region, 13 million to the Eastern Gateway (New Jersey and New York), 12 million to New England, 11 million to the Far West, seven million to the Frontier West and four million to the Mountain West.

Heartened by the national interest in the Bicentennial, John W. Warner, ARBA administrator, again has urged Americans to consider visiting regional activities during the Bicentennial year.

For those traveling to principal Bicentennial sites and major metropolitan areas, he has suggested working with the professional travel industry to minimize personal inconvenience and disruption in the community visited.

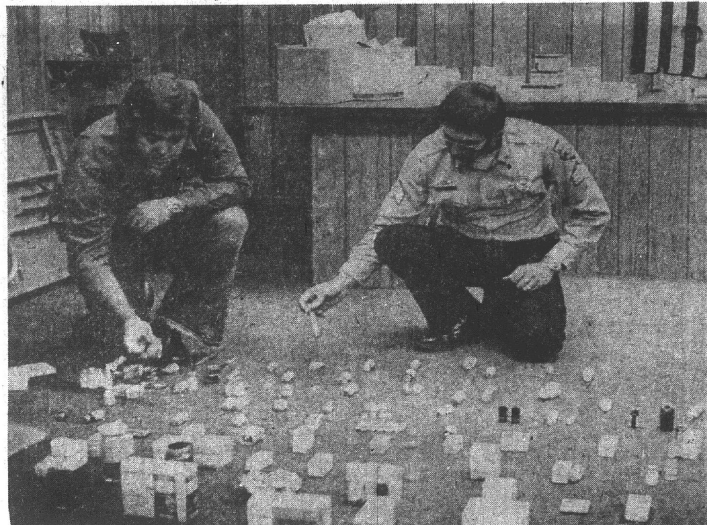

"Make sure you have confirmed reservations before you go," he cautioned.

The survey also reveals a new regional trend for tourists during 1976.

In 1975, August was the month in which most people traveled. However, in 1976, June is likely to be the most popular month. The nation's 200th birthday will be celebrated July 4.

The number of travelers planning their trips in January and February has also increased significantly from 1975. Nine per cent of all travelers intend to take their trip in January and eight per cent in February. This may indicate a trend toward avoiding crowds during the Bicentennial year, Warner said.

The major reason given by those individuals not planning to take a vacation trip in 1976 was the price of gasoline, closely followed by beliefs that accommodations, food and transportation are too expensive.

SEIZED AT MOBILE HOME on Division Street in Pontoon Beach in the early morning hours Saturday was a large quantity of controlled drugs, hypodermic syringes, dentists' equipment and other items. The owner of the home was arrested, and a guest was taken into custody for Berkeley, Mo., police who sought him for questioning in connection with an attempted shooting there.

Engelke again elected by Ill. Farm Bureau

The Illinois Farm Bureau's voting delegates re-elected the organization's president, vice president and nine directors at the organization's 61st annual meeting which concluded in Chicago Saturday. Directors include Wilbert Engelke of Granite City.

Harold B. Steele, Princeton, Bureau County, was re-elected as president. He and his son operate a 965-acre corn-hog operation.

Steele was first elected to the office in 1970 and has been re-elected annually since.

John White Jr., Elburn, Kane County, was re-elected to the vice presidency. He was first elected to that position in 1973 and has also been re-elected annually.

Re-elected as district directors are: Jack Young, Spring Grove, McHenry County; Morris E. Nelson, Alton, Henry County; Leonard Schultz, Glenview, Cook County; Elmer King Jr., Pekin, Tazewell County; Lowell Knox, Lorraine, Adams County; Arthur Gebhart, Stonington, Christian County; Tom Donnell, Mattoon, Coles County; Wilbert Engelke, Granite City, Madison County; and Carleton Apple, Enfield, White County.

District directors serve a two-year term, half of the board being elected each year.

Whitsell running for state representative

Louis Whitsell, 3 Westgate Drive, announced this week that he has filed petitions with the State Board of Elections as a candidate for state representative of the 56th Legislative District.

Whitsell said, "With due consideration to the local government I serve, it is my duty to seek the nomination as an independent Democrat for state representative."

"In my opinion, the state legislature has passed laws that place hardships on local government, due to their lack of knowledge of the functions and problems that we face."

"The 56th District is a compact industrialized area with capable local government officials, who need the legal authority to accomplish their own development of industry, commercial growth, sewers, etc., with the assistance of their tax dollar that the state holds with many strings attached."

"If elected, I will dedicate my career to improve local government and to reduce the control of the state, as our forefathers intended it to be."

"I feel, then the issues will have been brought to the attention of the public and I can continue to serve locally without anyone saying that I have deserted them."

"We recognize the difficulty that a Democrat faces in Madison County without the endorsement of the Central Committee. However, I did not seek the committee's endorsement because there was little chance that they would consider me."

"I prefer to rely on the people's choice in an open primary and to meet the machine head-on, as I have in the past."

"My record speaks for itself. Lifelong resident of this area. Elected and served two terms as Democratic committeeman. Elected town clerk of Nameeki Township."

"Elected supervisor of Nameeki Township. Then elected to the Madison County Board twice, serving on the Parks and Recreation Committee, the Executive Committee, Four Township Sewer Committee, the Building and Zoning and Subdivision Committees and the Education Committee."

"Chairman of Parks and Recreation, and Education and Museum, and appointed as chairman of the Madison County Bicentennial Commission."

Whitsell continued, "I have served as first vice-president of Retail Clerks Local 455. I am a member of Lodge 688, Tool and Die-Makers, and Masonic Lodge 877, American Legion, Armvets, Township Officials of Illinois, Illinois Association of County Board Members, Illinois Welfare Association, Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, the Truth and Action Party of Nameeki Township and the Lions Club of Pontoon Beach."

"I graduated from Granite City High School, finished courses at SIU and Hadley Tech and served in the Marine Corps Reserves, 1954-64."

"I am married and my wife, daughter and I have lived in Pontoon Beach for 14 years. Prior to that, I lived in Granite City all of my life."

Lower income taxes for most Quad-Cityans; forms to be mailed

Liberalized standard deduction, personal exemption credit, housing credit—these are some of the changes on the 1975 income tax return that will mean less taxes for the majority of taxpayers. Take the change in the standard deduction. On last year's return, taxpayers were limited to 15 percent of adjusted gross income to a maximum of $2,000. This year, it has been increased to 16 percent with a maximum of $2,600 for a married couple filing jointly, or $2,300 for a single person. It's $300 for a married person filing separately. Many taxpayers who have always itemized and filed the 1040 form may find it to their advantage to use the simpler Form 1040A this year and take the standard deduction, Internal Revenue Service officials said. "It's a good idea to work out the tax liability both by itemizing and by taking the standard deduction. While it may take a little longer to go through the process twice, it just may mean saving a considerable amount. Here's an example which shows how it can be to the taxpayers' advantage to use the standard deduction:

Mr. and Mrs. T. have itemized deductions for medical costs, charitable contributions, interest payments, etc., totaling $2,350 on an adjusted gross income of $20,000. While 16 percent of their adjusted gross income is $3,200, or more than the maximum standard deduction of $2,600, they would still save $250 by filing the short 1040A form and taking the standard deduction. And they might even save themselves the cost of a return preparer.

In addition to the increase in the standard deduction, another new change for 1975 is the low income allowance, which has been raised.

This increase is reflected in revised tax tables that now have a ceiling of $15,000. Last year, only taxpayers who earned $10,000 or less could use the tables. Because of the change in the low income allowance, the filing requirements for individuals have also been revised.

For example, last year a single taxpayer was required to file a return if earnings were $2,050 or higher; now the filing requirement for a single individual is $2,250.

Whether a person is required to file or not, however, if taxes are withheld a return should be filed to claim any refund which may be due.

Speaking about refunds, the IRS says, keep in mind that another credit which may be claimed is the refund on taxes paid in prior years.

Another credit which may be claimed is the refund on taxes paid in prior years. Taxpayers who file their return in January can expect a refund, if one is due, in six weeks, while the late, close to the April 15 deadline, filers may have to wait as long as eight weeks for a refund check. So it makes good sense to get started gathering records and documents together early—like now—in order to get an early start filing your return, the Revenue Service emphasizes.

Another change for filers is that each taxpayer with a tax liability can claim a $30 credit for each dependent and personal exemption. Keep in mind, though, that this credit does not apply to the exemptions for age or blindness.

Therefore, for a married couple with two children, a credit of $120 could be claimed on a joint return. This provision, as most of the others, has been enacted for this year only. Another credit which may benefit many low-income families is the earned income credit. Specifically, it applies to taxpayers with dependents and earned gross income (or adjusted income, if greater) under $8,000.

The maximum credit is 10 percent of a worker's first $4,000 of earned income. Above $4,000 the credit is reduced by an amount equal to 10 percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income. This is how it works: Mr. and Mrs. A. have adjusted gross income of $6,500. Their earned income credit is $150, computed by subtracting 10 percent of the amount of income over $4,000 from the maximum credit of $400.

Even if Mr. and Mrs. A. had no tax liability, they would receive a check for the $150. The earned income credit may be claimed by those who have no tax liability if the other conditions are met. So, people who may not otherwise be required to file a return should do so to get a check for the earned income credit, even if no income tax had been withheld.

Mention of checks may bring to mind last year's rebate and the routine special $50 payment to Social Security recipients.

Where do they fit on this year's federal return? The answer is "nowhere." Neither of those checks are considered income by the IRS and so are not taxable.

There's one more credit to consider: the housing credit. This credit applies only to those taxpayers who bought certain newly constructed homes last year.

A home built before March 26, 1975, which had never been occupied, is eligible for the credit. The other conditions which must be met are:

—The house must be a principal residence.

—The residence must be acquired and occupied as a principal residence after March 12, 1975, and before Jan. 1, 1977.

—The taxpayer must enter into a binding purchase contract before Jan. 1, 1976.

—Except in the case of self-construction, taxpayers must attach to their return, certification by the seller that the purchase price is the lowest price at which the residence was offered for sale since Feb. 28, 1975.

An individual who meets all the tests may claim a credit of five percent of the purchase price, up to a maximum of $2,000.

Another tax break dealing with home owners is the provision that the seller of an old principal residence now has 18, rather than 12 months, as in the past, to purchase a new principal residence, to defer recognition of a tax gain.

This is a Presidential election year and, with elections coming up, taxpayers should be aware that the maximum tax credit for contributions to candidates for public office has been increased to $25 per taxpayer ($50 for a joint return).

Also, the maximum deduction for contributions to candidates has been hiked to $100 ($200 on a joint return).

The IRS is making it easier for taxpayers to file the shorter Form 1040A by automatically sending the 1040A package, complete with instructions, to those taxpayers who took the standard deduction last year but did not use the short form.

Taxpayers will receive a tax package through the mail during the first week in January.

In the package, taxpayers usually will find everything they need to complete the 1975 return, the IRS believes.

Urges railroad gates on Edwardsville Road

City action to obtain installation of crossing gates at the railroad tracks on Edwardsville Road near 20th Street was urged by Alderman Steve Basarich of the Fifth Ward during a regular Granite City council meeting Monday night.

Basarich said he believes railroad gates at the crossing will prevent a serious accident "one of these days" because crossing lights, now the only protection at that site, operate erratically.

"The lights go on and off at various times when there are no trains and motorists get so they don't trust them," Basarich said.

He said a number of accidents have occurred at the crossing and the city should take steps to have gates installed as soon as possible. The matter was referred to the city engineering department for study.

Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward reported that bidders on installation of the city's new Opti-Com system are revising cost estimates on the basis of information provided by the 3M Co. of St. Louis from which the city purchased the Opti-Com equipment.

Bids for the installation work, called separately from the purchase of equipment, were rejected temporarily because they exceeded cost estimates.

Decatur said that the cost of components to be installed on the signal posts at each signal ran higher than anticipated, and that substitute materials have been proposed. He said a report and recommendation on a contract award probably will be made at the council's Dec. 22 meeting.

The Opticom system, which changes red traffic lights to green upon the approach of emergency vehicles such as fire trucks, ambulances and police cars, will be installed at 16 intersections in Granite City.

The equipment was purchased in October at a cost of $35,000. The U.S. Council members approved two applications for excavations requested by utilities to install new lines. One permit was granted the Illinois Power Co. to make six openings on Pershing Avenue between Nameki Road and Garden Drive.

Another permit was granted Illinois Bell to make four openings in the east side of Cleveland Boulevard from 18th Street south 377 feet, and to bore under the street to the west side of Cleveland in the 1700 block.

Illinois farmers urge competitive market

Illinois farmers during the weekend called for a national policy that would allow the competitive market to function in agriculture and to keep foreign farm markets free of government intervention.

Adoption of policy positions on a wide range of public and agricultural issues was a final order of business of the 81st annual meeting of the Illinois Farm Bureau at Chicago's Palmer House.

In the policy recommendation on foreign trade, the IFB's 475 voting delegates cited government intervention in foreign marketing in each of the last three years, asserting that "farmers deeply resent the actions that have been taken by their government in restricting export markets."

They said these actions by government had "destroyed farmers' confidence in their government... seriously tarnished the reliability of the U.S. as a supplier of food and fiber in foreign markets... forced foreign buyers to secure from other suppliers products which could have been purchased from the U.S. if export controls had not been in effect..."

made agricultural exports a pawn in the game of international diplomacy and the bait to placate and woo labor."

Delegates said the Farm Bureau will:

(1) Develop a plan, including legal action if deemed necessary, to strongly oppose restraints and controls on agricultural exports and seek concrete assurances from the administration and legislation from Congress that agricultural exports will not be restricted.

(2) Favor trade for cash and normal credit with their government subsidy.

(3) Increase support of effective market development and other programs which will expand the export of agricultural products.

(4) Oppose subsidization of agricultural products in world markets.

(5) Make every effort to bring about understanding on the part of the public, government and organized labor that American grain is the private property of farmers or the grain trade until sold and is not public property to be used by government or labor to advance their particular interests or causes.

(6) Urge the American Farm Bureau Federation to support these principles and to work closely with U.S. international trade negotiators relating to trade and maritime agreements.

In the farm policy resolution, the IFB delegates said:

"If duly established government policies will not allow the competitive market to function and farmers to compete, we urge the American Farm Bureau to support policies consistent with the following principles:

"1. Price supports (for crops) should be changed from a non-recourse loan program to a recourse loan program as an additional source of credit and to encourage orderly marketing.

"2. Target prices (for crops) should be related to average costs of production excluding land to protect farmers from drastic price changes when they are being urged to maximize production, but should not be used to encourage uneconomic production.

"3. Necessary adjustments in production should be by a voluntary government program to set aside or retire cropland acres.

"4. An aggressive program should be developed to encourage domestic and foreign buyers of U.S. farm products to establish their own reserves (of grain). The U.S. government should not hold grain reserves.

"5. There should be a government program to assist farmers in establishing a farmer-held and farmer-controlled reserve program to meet possible major national emergencies.

Regarding federal food stamps, the IFB delegates went on record in support of legislation to prohibit food stamp distribution to persons on strike and to simplify administrative procedures.

The voting delegates also said they support the policy of keeping the responsibility for governmental services at the lowest level of government feasible.

Delegates said they will support the right of public employees to bargain collectively while negotiating on working conditions and salary. They said the Farm Bureau will oppose legislative proposals to provide for mandatory membership, binding arbitration unless agreed to by both negotiating parties, strikes by public employees which might jeopardize public health, safety and welfare, and inclusion of administrative, supervisory or management personnel as members.

Delegates also adopted policy positions on more than 70 other public and agricultural issues to guide the organization in the year ahead and serve as recommendations to the American Farm Bureau for its national policy positions.

In the farm policy resolution, the IFB delegates said:

"If duly established government policies will not allow the competitive market to function and farmers to compete, we urge the American Farm Bureau to support policies consistent with the following principles:

(1) Develop a plan, including legal action if deemed necessary, to strongly oppose restraints and controls on agricultural exports and seek concrete assurances from the administration and legislation from Congress that agricultural exports will not be restricted.

(2) Favor trade for cash and normal credit with their government subsidy.

(3) Increase support of effective market development and other programs which will expand the export of agricultural products.

(4) Oppose subsidization of agricultural products in world markets.

(5) Make every effort to bring about understanding on the part of the public, government and organized labor that American grain is the private property of farmers or the grain trade until sold and is not public property to be used by government or labor to advance their particular interests or causes.

(6) Urge the American Farm Bureau Federation to support these principles and to work closely with U.S. international trade negotiators relating to trade and maritime agreements.

Affirmative vote appears to be best choice in Venice School District's education fund tax rate balloting

Pre-Christmas timing is regarded by many as ideal for the presentation of a public tax proposal to the voting public. But the outcome of the Venice School District No. Three tax rate referendum Saturday is far from certain, because four previous Venice school tax elections had negative results.

A large turnout by taxpayers and parents is being encouraged. Balloting will take place from noon to 7 p.m. Saturday at the Venice school gymnasium and at the Eagle Park Improvement Association building. The tax proposal being submitted is smaller than those voted on previously. The economic squeeze has become more severe, as assessment divvies and cost and salaries rise. And the level of borrowing is reaching excessive dimensions.

There have been numerous reductions in services, and additional cutbacks would appear to be counterproductive to the goal of quality education.

The ballot question involves an increase in the present Venice education fund rate ceiling of 60 cents, from $2.05 to $2.65 per $100 assessed valuation.

Actual rate changes still would depend on the amounts levied by the elected board members. But the higher maximum would enable school authorities to have more leeway than at present in their financial and educational planning.

Nine of the 12 unit school systems in Madison County already have a higher overall school tax rate than the Venice district's current $2,764 rate. Comparisons show $3,707 in Granite City and $2,894 in Madison. Livingston has a school rate of $3,767, Worden $3,280, Collinsville, $3,202, Edwardsville $3,162, Triad $3,143, Bethalto $3,113 and Alton, $2,830.

Other statistics further illustrate the election issue. The district expects to collect $621,564 in education fund taxes this year but salaries alone in that fund amount to $782,535. Non-salary education fund expenses totaled $131,000 in 1974-75, and the state as a whole has been hit hard by the oil crisis and the consequent severe inflation and recession; the state's fiscal problems are directly attributable to these economic problems.

The different levels of government, however, have been affected in paradoxically different ways. The federal government has actually been helped by inflation — because of the graduated income tax. If a man earned $10,000 and got a raise to $11,000 while prices went up 10 percent, he would actually be a little worse off, because the extra $1,000 would be taxed in a higher bracket.

It is only fair for the federal government to return this extra tax to the citizens by tax cuts; and it is only natural for the President and congressmen to milk this "tax cut" for all the credit they can get.

Cities, counties and school districts which depend on the property tax have been badly hurt by inflation because property assessments have lagged far behind rising prices. Theoretically, if the cost of living goes up 10 percent, then land prices also ought to go up 10 percent, and hence assessments and the taxes based on them.

In practice, elected assessors have been naturally reluctant to jack up their neighbors' assessments and taxes. Even when they've done so, there's been a lag.

There are no easy answers to this problem. Unless we are to cut city services, we must either raise the tax rate or the assessments; not both, or course. Theoretically, if the cost of living goes up 10 percent, then land prices also ought to go up 10 percent, and hence assessments and the taxes based on them.

Many may recall that it took much time and a fierce struggle to achieve a local Circuit Court separate from the state circuit serving St. Clair County. Once entangled in St. Clair politics, Madison County seems to have an awfully tough time ever achieving freedom from it.

Few win but many scratch

Maybe it's the feverish, almost mad, way people scratch for the numbers, or the look in their eyes while they're doing it. Maybe it's the technique they use to do it — from top to bottom, from bottom to top or a different way each time.

Maybe it's just the greed, the get-rich-quick lust we all have that makes them so appealing. It is the state's biggest rip-off to date, or is it the greatest thing since peanut butter?

The instant winner or 7-11-21 game, the newest in a long line of gimmicks to encourage Illinois residents to spend their money on Illinois lottery tickets, is drawing severe criticism.

The new game, in which a person scratches off four covered circles revealing a number which must equal total seven, 11 or 21 to be a winner, has by far been the most successful game to date in a series of lottery gimmicks.

The prize includes two free tickets if the four numbers total seven, $5 if they total 11 and $10,000 if they total 21. In addition, the seven and 11 totals may enter that ticket in the grand prize drawing which will award three prizes of $1,000,000. On the far right side of the card, another covered box hides a letter.

If the letters spell out e-e-n-e, e-e-w-e-n, or t-w-e-n-t-y, the holder wins $100, $1,000 and $10,000 respectively.

The state has issued a statement saying that the letters s, l and w are the scarce ones, warning people to be cautious of people who had been offering $300 for a "w" which brings $10,000.

It is apparently that chance of an instant reward of $10,000 which has attracted so many buyers of this new chance to gamble.

Many observers of the lottery have said this game is the closest thing to legalized gambling the state has dared to advance so far.

There is no waiting for numbers to be drawn, no qualifying, no drawings, just scratch and win.

And scratch, scratch, scratch is what Illinois residents have been doing.

Al Bolliger, an employee of an Elgin store, said it is nothing for him to sell almost 300 of the $1 tickets a day.

Bolliger says one woman wrote out a check for $50 for 50 tickets.

He also says people on welfare, Social Security and other aid are frequent customers.

"I see people stand in here day after day to buy these tickets," Bolliger says.

"The attraction of a quick $10,000 is apparently more important to some people than the fact that the number part of the game is virtually without monetary reward unless the person picks a $10,000 winner, continue to rise.

One person was said to have signed over his entire paycheck for purchase of the new tickets, and it was not uncommon for the businesses to have sold anywhere from $20 on up to a single customer.

And the sales, despite the fact that the number part of the game is virtually without monetary reward unless the person picks a $10,000 winner, continue to rise.

But recently he has been focusing on a new and prominent target, James R. (Jim) Thompson, heavily favored to win the Republican nomination for governor.

Walker's attacks on Thompson have been reminiscent of the tactics he employed in his successful 1972 campaign. In upstaging then Lt. Gov. Paul Simon in the Democratic primary, Walker exploited some of Simon's re-

Numerous state financial problems

To the Editor:

The state of Illinois is incurring severe financial difficulties. What and what can be done about it?

Only part of the problem can be blamed on mismanagement by Governor Walker. The nation as a whole has been hit hard by the oil crisis and the consequent severe inflation and recession; the state's fiscal problems are directly attributable to these economic problems.

The different levels of government, however, have been affected in paradoxically different ways. The federal government has actually been helped by inflation — because of the graduated income tax. taxes would be the last straw.

At the state level, our major taxes are the sales tax and the state income tax, which go up automatically with incomes, whether the income increase is a real one or is due merely to inflation.

The 1973-74 inflation did not bother the state government much, since both revenue and expenditures went up together.

However, the decline in the economy in 1975 has meant that tax revenues have not gone up as expected, and the welfare burden has greatly increased as unemployment worsened.

Because of this, the governor had to belatedly back-pedal on his expansionist plans and had to back at the budget.

In 1976, we should see an improvement in the American economy. By economizing, we should be able to avoid insolvency in Illinois.

But we must avoid all unnecessary and low-priority new expenditures, because we will have difficulty even in paying for those programs we are already committed to.

How should our priorities be set? In order of importance, I believe:

1. We must at all costs avoid bankruptcy. The dreadful example of New York City is all too plain.

2. We must, if at all possible, avoid any increase in state tax rates. Many citizens have fallen victim to the income tax in recent years; a tax increase would be the last straw for them.

3. The only place where I would advocate a tax increase would be in the one percent of the $10 billion state budget that goes to state police and fire.

To cope with the increase in crime, we need to build additional police stations.

How much? I would propose spending $30 million a year for five years, to gradually build up for 160,000 inmates.

4. There is a gradual increase in operational expenditures for guards, maintenance, etc., of $60 million a year, in constant dollars, by the end of the five-year period. This is a necessary investment in public safety.

5. There are some places where spending can be cut. We should substantially reduce the spending ($18 million in the 1976 budget) — on new capital improvements for universities and community colleges.

Student enrollment, though it should rise a little in the late '70s, will decline substantially in the 1980s because of the birthrate decline, which is already affecting the primary school and will soon hit the high schools.

It makes little sense to put up new buildings now, though we will still need continued renovation and a little "rounding out" of facilities.

6. If and when money becomes available, top priority must go to increasing salaries to catch up with inflation.

University professors, state policemen, prison guards, civil service workers — all have suffered from continued inflation.

In the universities, for instance, the administrations each year submit expansion plans for expanding programs everywhere and increasing salaries.

7. Each stage — the university board, the Board of Higher Education, the legislature, the governor — cutbacks are made.

By the time the final chopsticks are made, at the last minute, many of the new programs have already been frozen in place.

What's left, for emergency cutbacks? Salaries in most school districts.

Local school districts depend substantially on the state for their salaries and pension payments.

Local school districts depend substantially on the state for their salaries and pension payments. The recent state fiscal crunch means that that aid had to be increased less than planned, if we are to avoid a tax increase.

Won't this cutback just mean that property taxes must be increased instead? Half true.

In maybe half the school districts, voters will be willing to increase taxes; in the other half, school boards will find ways to cut costs — often painful ways.

There are simply no easy answers to this dilemma.

Juvenile drunk driving rate is growing serious

By FRANK MACAMBER

It used to be traditional in turn-of-the-century dramas for the Old Man to come home drunk while Sonny Boy cringed in the corner or behind Mama's skirts. They were long enough to hide behind in those days.

Well, today, according to the Highway Users Federation and the National Public Service Research Institute, it's Junior who is belting it more and more, to a point where the teen-ager is even a greater risk on the highway than before he found out about the bottle.

Serious drinking problems are plaguing an estimated 1.5 million Americans between the ages of 12 and 17.

About a third of the nation's high school students get drunk at least once a month. Arrests of teen-agers on drunk driving charges have tripled since 1960.

These and other frightening findings come from the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism.

Teen-ager driving always has been a traumatic experience for adults. Mix in the alcohol and it comes out like this:

Sixty per cent of the people killed or drunk driving accidents are in their teens.

The federation and the research institute, an Alexandria, Va.-based organization, are looking for countermeasures. They are developing a course on alcohol safety for use in the nation's high schools. It is to be ready for classrooms by next July.

Another study, sponsored by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, finds that teen-agers who drink alcohol before driving are more likely to be involved in accidents than those who don't.

What it comes down to, says the government study, is that young people simply don't accept the reality that the risk of death or injury mounts sharply with drunk driving.

Another disconcerting note in the study found that nearly half the country's high school students drink alcoholic beverages regularly, without adult supervision.

tion, a government agency, has analyzed attitudes among young people on the issue of drinking and driving.

Researchers concluded that young people involved in alcohol-related crashes aren't a fringe element. They represent all levels of scholastic achievement and aspiration.

More than 25 per cent of 400 teen-agers from all classes of society, asked about their driving habits, replied that they had driven a car at least once or twice when they were "really pretty drunk."

The trouble is, say authorities, that kids, like many adults, have misconceptions about drinking and driving. They don't believe, for example, that beer can be dangerously intoxicating.

Three-quarters of those interviewed said beer is their favorite alcoholic beverage, and 42 per cent thought they could drink five to seven cans of beer without becoming intoxicated enough to affect their driving functions.

By the time many of them find out they're wrong it often is too late — for them and for other traffic victims as well.

Another worn-out belief young people have is that black coffee and cold showers have sobering effects.

Happy marriage needs diplomacy

By REV. W. LEE TRUMAN

"Why are you getting a divorce?" I asked.

"I've got all the time about everything — from money to in-laws. It wasn't a marriage. It was a civil war, so we decided to call it quits."

The details vary, but it is a fact that America has one of the highest divorce rates in the world.

Learning to understand differences and how to handle a divided family row can make a relationship healthier and can even cut the divorce rate. These guidelines are suggestions designed to help the delicate machinery of a marriage running smoothly.

These rules have stood the test of time. And they do work.

1. Face the facts that there will be differences of opinion. Marriage partners are people, and we all come from different backgrounds, and have different temperaments and emotional makeup. You will have different views but without this, your marriage would be as flat as food without seasoning.

2. Develop a sense of timing. Everbody is irritated sometimes, and people who are cheerful and easygoing in the morning can be grouchy at night. Know the people you are living with and avoid those times they are below par. One man recently caused his world to explode by criticizing his wife's new hairdo just as they were about to walk into a party. That is a masterpiece of bad timing.

Cantata at Central Christian

"A Christmas Festival," a special cantata for the holiday season, will be presented by the Chancel Choir at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, during the 10:45 a.m. worship services Sunday.

The public is invited to attend the Christmas program, which will blend the use of organ and piano, choral and solo voices with special accompaniment of flute, violin, oboe, triangle and tambourine.

A 9 o'clock breakfast preceding the cantata and service will replace the regular church school, according to the Rev. Dennis Rutledge, Central Christian pastor. Singing and family sharing of good news will be part of the breakfast hour, the minister said.

The congregation also is planning a Christmas Eve communion service, starting at the church at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, the Rev. Rutledge said. Area residents also are invited to join in the latter events, he added.

Venice students achieve recognition

Three Venice students have been named to "Who's Who Among American High School Students" for the 1974-75 school year. It was announced this week.

The trio includes: Tami L. Eck, daughter of Mrs. Margaret L. Eck, 1314 Robin St., Venice, a Venice High School senior who is planning to attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, majoring in medicine. Miss Eck has accumulated such honors in leadership as freshman class president, sophomore class vice president, junior class treasurer, Student Council and FHA member; school reporter and varsity cheerleader. She also participates in band, choral work, school plays and is listed on the Honor Roll.

Peggy S. Pier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Pier, 707 Broadway, Venice, also a senior year student, is planning to enter college this year in the field of liberal arts.

An Honor Roll member, Miss Pier received the American Legion Award. She serves as treasurer of the FHA, is active with the Student Council and youth fellowship group and takes part in school plays and band.

Miss Sandra K. Sanders, 307 Carver St., Venice, a recent Venice High School graduate, now attends Belleville Area College, majoring in business.

At Venice HS, Miss Sanders received the "Most Outstanding Senior Student Home Economist" award and was chosen captain of the varsity cheerleading team. She served as secretary of the senior, junior and sophomore classes and vice president of her freshman class. She also was active in Student Council, FHA and school plays.

Cantata at 3rd Baptist Sunday

John W. Peterson's cantata "Born a King" will be performed at 6:30 p.m. Sunday by the church choir at Third Baptist Church, 2601 Grand Ave.

The featured soloists will be Karen Cline, Colleen Fitzgerald, Bonnie Nading, Donna Millikin, Don Pendegrass, Nick Poplichak and Vance Lockridge.

Accompaniment will be provided by Cheryl Harper, organist, Donna Millikin, pianist, and a brass ensemble, consisting of three trumpets, two trombones, tuba and percussion instruments.

John Nading, Third Baptist minister of music, said the public is invited to attend the cantata performance. Christmas festivities at the church began earlier this week with three choirs presenting a program of music.

The Music Makers sang "The Donkey" by Robert Graham and the Young Musicians presented the "Wise Men Still Adore Him" by Dwayne Good. A third segment featured the Youth Choir with a contemporary folk cantata, "Shepherd, Rejoice," written by John F. Wilson.

A caroling tour was made by children and adult church members in the neighborhood last week. Later, the group returned to the church for a carol and candlelight service.

MR. AND MRS. H. ROBERT YOUNG, whose wedding took place at the New Hope Baptist Church. Formerly Miss Mary Jane Strong, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Strong, Rural Route Two, Granite City.

Young-Strong wedding at New Hope Baptist

Miss Mary Jane Strong and H. Robert Young exchanged wedding vows at 7 o'clock on the evening of Dec. 6 at the New Hope Baptist Church, 2020 Johnson Road, in Granite City.

Bouquets of pink and deep red carnations decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Bill B. Belmar.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Strong, Rural Route Two, Granite City. The groom is a son of Mrs. H. Robert Young, 1312 Robin St., Venice, and the late H. Robert Young.

Mark Cox presided at the organ for Becky Miller as she sang "Precious and Few" and "First Time Ever I Saw Your Face."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of pink organza over white tulle with a long train. She carried a cascade of pink roses and baby's breath.

Honor attendant Cheryl Davis and bridesmaid Sandra Batey selected identical long pink halter gowns, complemented with burgundy velvet jackets with long sleeves trimmed at the wrists in pink fur.

Each held a bouquet of white carnations tinted pink, pink net and baby's breath festooned with burgundy velvet ribbons. The groom chose his brother, William Young, as best man. Dave Caurtois served as groomsman and ushers were Scott Hillmer and Garry Mattaline.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Strong was attired in a long burgundy dress of double knit. She wore matching accessories and a pink Sweetheart rose corsage.

The groom's mother appeared in a pink organza dress with accessories in the same shade. Her corsage was made up of red Sweetheart roses.

A reception was held in the church hall after the service. Karen Rappaport attended the guest book.

'Y' holiday programs

The Tri-City Area YMCA will offer special children's activities during the holiday break in the school calendar, Michael Tharp, program director, announced today.

During the holiday interim week, the Y will present children's activities in the afternoon and men's basketball in the evening. On Dec. 22 and 23, school will still be in session, so just the evening program of the arcade and swimming will be open, Tharp said.

"We will be closed one-half day on Dec. 24, but will have some children's activities available in the morning. We will, of course, be closed all day on Christmas," he said. On the 26 the Y will have an ice carving contest, starting at 2 p.m. and if there is snow, the youngsters will build snowmen.

Saturday, Dec. 27 at 10:00 a.m. there will be a basketball dribbling and free-throw contest. Monday, Dec. 29, if there is snow, youngsters will build forts, and if not, there will be indoor hockey and basketball and other games, Tharp said.

If there is snow on Dec. 30, a bus load or two of children will go to Cahokia Mounds for sledding. If there is no snow, gym games will be scheduled. They will be closed a half day on Dec. 31, but the game room will be available to children in the morning.

"We will be closed all day New Year's Day, and on Jan. 2, we will take a bus trip to the Granite City Park District's ice rink," Tharp said. The bus will leave at 2 p.m. For residents with park district ID cards, the cost is 50 cents. For all others, the cost is $1 and skate rental 50 cents.

On Saturday, Jan. 3, from 10 a.m. to noon, a kids' New Year's Eve party will be held. All of the children's special activities are available to members at no cost (except bus fare and ice rink costs) and is available to non-members for a $1 day pass. Bus fare for the Cahokia Mounds trip will be 40 cents round trip and for the ice rink will be 30 cents round trip.

More information on the activities, open swim and basketball time, may be obtained at the "Y" at 2001 Edison Ave., or by calling 676-7200. The Y is a United Way Agency.
